TRADE PACTS TIGHTEN RING AROUND NAZIS

BLOCKADE PROVES ENGLAND'S BEST WAR WEAPON

BY DREW MIDDLETON

London, April 2, (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain brandished Britain's most effective weapon—a sea-power blockade—in the house of commons today and assured the house and the nation that the new anti-Nazi trade agreements with neutrals would be used to "prosecute the economic war to the utmost" of the allies' power.

To tighten Britain's control of raw materials which might reach Germany a "sterling line" of war trade pacts has been built around Germany, each one stipulating a strict limitation of exports to the reich, Chamberlain disclosed.

Neutrals Warned

Solemnly the prime minister warned neutral nations that any aid they give the Nazis may "render them in the end liable to the hideous fate which has overtaken previous victims of German policy."

The new trade pacts with their export stipulations already have been signed with Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Belgium, The Netherlands and Denmark, Chamberlain announced. In addition he said discussions now are under way with Switzerland, and commercial discussion are known to be going on with Spain, Greece and Turkey.

An economic drive in the Balkans was seen in his announcement that Rumania and Yugoslavia also would begin talks in London soon.

But these nations must not expect the products of Britain's empire unless they are prepared to give "guarantees of a limitation of their future trade with Germany," Chamberlain said.

Buying Spree Begun

In a statement before commons, reconvening after the Easter recess, the prime minister, who looked cheerful and confident, mentioned the fighting services only indirectly. Significally, he devoted his speech to the warfare whose general headquarters is in the counting room and warehouse.

"Certain practical steps" are being taken, Chamberlain said, to halt the passage of cargo ships from Scandinavia to Germany—a route over which Swedish iron ore moves to the reich. He failed to divulge what the steps were, but the remark was interpreted as meaning that Britain would start a naval offensive against ore ships.

Bluntly the prime minister warned Germany that the British navy still controls the North Sea.

Britain's buying power—"another weapon in our armory"—also is being brought to bear, he said. To deprive Germany of materials "most essential for the prosecution of an aggressive policy," Britain has entered Europe's markets in the manner of a spendthrift sailor on shore leave, Chamberlain indicated.

Mineral oil, whale oil and fats are being bouht up by England from southeastern Europe to Norway, and Chamberlain added that Britain intends to take "suitable measures" against a supply of war materials to Germany over hitherto unused land routes.

ELOPERS GIVEN TIPS ON LAWS

Michigan Blood Tests Prevent Three-Day Wait In Indiana

Lansing, April 2, (AP)—The state health department gave eloping couples bound for Indiana altars a helpful hint today.

"Indiana's new marriage law, which became effective March 3, is causing considerable difficulty for Michigan couples expecting to be married in that state," a publicity blurb attributed to Dr. H. Allen Noyer, state health commissioner, observed.

"Indiana now requires a medical examination, including a blood test, and a three-day waiting period for residents of that state before the marriage ceremony can be performed.

"Non-residents may be married in Indiana, however, without the usual three-day wait, providing such couples have blood test certificates issued by their state laboratory."

The departmental announcement wound up with a plug for the Michigan state health laboratories, which "make blood test examinations for doctors without charge," and for the state's own law requiring pre-marital physical examinations.

"Many Michigan couples going to Indiana during the past month have had to return" for blood test certificates, the announcement said. In the same breath, it pointed out that the Michigan law had proved no stumbling block for Cupid, noting a 25 per cent increase in marriages in this state during the past year.

Three Sentenced In Fake Holdup Case At Detroit

Detroit, April 2, (AP)—Prison terms were dealt out today to three of four men whose arrest last July in the Dr. Martin B. Robinson "holdup" case led to the biggest shake-up in the Detroit police department's history.

Sentenced to two and one-half to five-year terms upon their conviction on charges of carrying concealed weapons were Louis Jacobs, Irving Feldman and Sidney Cooper.

Over objections of police and probation officers Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis placed Joseph Holtzman on five years' probation.

Prior to their conviction of carrying concealed weapons the four men were acquitted of armed robbery.

Trial testimony disclosed the robbery was "faked" in order to collect a gambling debt and permit collection of holdup insurance.

Soo Legion To Set Up Cairn On US-2

BOTH BRITISH AND GERMANS BOMB BY AIR

SCAPA FLOW NAVAL BASE IS AGAIN ATTACKED

London, April 2, (AP)—British and German air forces stabbed in a brisk give and take across the North Sea today, the Germans dropping bombs in a new raid on Britain's great naval anchorage at Scapa Flow and attacking a British convoy, while the British let fall a new shower of bombs about patrol boats off Germany's Sylt base and attacked numerous raiders in the rapid exchange.

Air raid sirens howled when the bombers came over the Orkney islands at dusk. The all-clear signal was sounded 45 minutes later.

Civilians Watch

For about five minutes civilians living near Scapa Flow heard heavy anti-aircraft fire; then the explosions of bombs.

British fighter planes went up in pursuit of the raiders, which made off quickly.

(Germany announced that radio reports from the bombers showed a number of warships were attacked by heavy bombs; that some were damaged by direct hits and that one "listed heavily" after the attack.)

The roar from the engines of the attacking planes indicated a large number was engaged in the attack.

One Falls In Sea

The manager of a public works project said he saw one of the German planes spiral downward toward the sea.

Another spectator saw the flashes of five or six bombs as they splashed in the sea.

The raid on Scapa Flow was the first since March 16, a raid which was followed by a reprisal blow by the British on the Island of Sylt, when bombs rained for seven hours on the German seaplane base.

The air ministry, in announcing tonight's attack, said anti-aircraft fire from ships and shore batteries drove off the bombers before any ship was hit or damaged.

Without giving an indication of how extensive was the bombing, the ministry said one bomb fell on land, and that one German plane was believed to have been shot down.

Convoys Undamaged

The raid, however, apparently was less intensive than that of two weeks ago, when the Germans asserted they had hit four warships, and done extensive damage to airports and anti-aircraft positions.

The British admitted slight damage to but one warship in

Death Of Girl, 18, On Training Ship Remains Mystery

Detroit, April 2, (AP)—Developments remained at a standstill today as federal authorities continued their investigation into the mysterious death early last Saturday of 18-year-old Charlotte Mary Cranson aboard the naval reserve training ship Dubuque.

Federal bureau of investigation agents, in full charge of the case, said results of the inquiry would not be disclosed for several days. Still in custody are John W. Klanauskas, 20, caretaker of the Dubuque; Robert Newman, 18, and David Palmer, 19. Klanauskas was the dead girl's escort at an all-night party aboard the vessel.

Necklace Presented By King Of Sweden Stolen At Detroit

Detroit, April 2, (AP)—Police combed city pawnshops today for a pearl necklace owned by Goeta Ljundberg, Metropolitan opera star, and reported stolen in a jewelry store robbery here.

The necklace, containing a clasp of 14 diamonds, was presented to the singer when she appeared before King Gustav IV of Sweden in 1934. It had been taken to the jewelry store to be restrung.

Madame Ljungberg, in private life Mrs. Edwin Wedge, is visiting relatives here.

Bay City Fugitive Knifer Sentenced

Bay City, Mich., April 2 (AP)—Gale Watson, 23, of Coleman was sentenced today in circuit court to serve a term of three to four years imprisonment for felonious assault in a knife attack on Mrs. Marie Schwartz, 27. Watson, a fugitive from a Southern Michigan prison farm, had attempted to rob Mrs. Schwartz of her automobile on February 28.

Blonde Secret Agent Says Pelley Planned To Be King Of U. S.

BY MAX BOYD

Washington, April 2, (AP)—From the lips of a blonde secret agent—Miss Dorothy Waring, of New York—the Dies committee heard today that William Dudley Pelley had planned to use his Silver Legion to seize the United States government and make himself king.

And, at the same time, the committee received evidence that aides of the Asheville, N. C., publisher had kept in close touch with a national guard officer at Detroit who trained Ku Klux Klan members for cavalry duty during "the coming turmoil."

Fooled Committee

The story was unfolded under the direction of Rep. Dickstein (D-NY), vice chairman of the McCormack committee, which preceded the Dies committee in investigating un-American activities for the house.

Dickstein charged at the outset that Pelley had failed to give a true picture of his Silver Shirters when he appeared before the Dies group recently. On that occasion, Pelley expressed great admiration for the work the committee had been doing.

Dickstein said the publisher was a "Jew-baiter" and a self-styled "American fuehrer" whose aim was to replace the present government with one patterned after the Hitler regime.

"I charge that he was tied up with a number of army officers, and I have evidence to prove it," Dickstein said.

Miss Waring, called to the stand by Dickstein, said she was a journalist and a former secret agent for the McCormack committee. She was working as confidential secretary to Royal Scott Gulden, whom she identified as the leader of the Order of '76, when she first met Pelley, she testified.

The Silver Shirt leader visited headquarters of the Order of '76 in New York, she said, and, since she was living at the time on Park avenue and giving every evidence of affluence, he got the idea she was well-to-do.

Men All Armed

One evening in April, 1934, Miss Waring said, Pelley came to her apartment.

He was dressed in uniform and black boots, she related, and on a shoulder strap carried a pistol which she said she believed was the same one taken by committee agents later from Silver Shirt headquarters at Asheville.

Pelley tried to interest her in supporting the legion financially, the witness said.

"He explained that eventually the organization would march on Washington; that he would be the dictator of the country."

At another point she said he had assured her he would be the country's "white king."

Pelley, she said, told her his legionnaires were armed. She recalled, she added, seeing some correspondence, with either the Winchester or Remington arms companies, about the purchase of weapons for legionnaires.

RUMANIA PUTS BOYS ON FARM

Four Million Drafted to Keep Agriculture Normal for 1940

Bucharest, April 2 (AP)—In a dual move to satisfy export demands, Rumania announced today that 4,000,000 of her youths would be drafted into a vast agricultural army.

Diplomatic sources viewed the project as an answer to a German request that Rumania reduce her 1,600,000 armed forces by one third in order to release men for grain production for the Reich.

The German suggestion is said to have been accompanied by an offer to send 6,000 Nazi agricultural experts into Rumania to speed up production of cereals.

Under the government's program, many students will be released from school for a two-week period for work on farms. It was worked out at a conference of the chiefs of the Rumania youth movement and the ministers of agriculture and education.

Although the original German demobilization proposal has become a pivotal point in the current German-Rumanian economic talks, Rumanians hold that it would not be safe to reduce the armed strength of this Balkan kingdom at present.

On the other hand, Germany has expressed fear that exports of Rumanian cereals to Germany will dry up unless steps are taken to boost Rumania's lagging agricultural production, hard hit by a severe winter, late spring and widespread floods.

Plane Crash Fatal To Mayville Pastor

Saginaw, Mich., April 2 (AP)—The Rev. Paul Fields, pastor of the Mayville Baptist church, died tonight at St. Luke's hospital here of injuries suffered Saturday afternoon in an airplane crash.

The minister had suffered a skull fracture when a two-seat plane he had rented at Flint struck telegraph poles and fell on the Pere Marquette railroad right-of-way a mile from the Mayville business district. Witnesses had reported at the time that the minister had been flying low to distribute handbills from the plane.

COURT STUDIES WAYNE OUSTER

Ruling To Be Given On Right to Suspend Prosecutor

Lansing, April 2 (AP)—The supreme court is preparing a ruling on the governor's right to suspend an elected public official before he has been formally "tried" on a removal petition.

The case is another of the legal barriers erected by Duncan C. McCrea, Wayne county prosecutor, against attempts of grand jury officials to remove him from office and convict him of protecting vice and gambling in Wayne county.

On the request of Judge Homer Ferguson, the grand juror, Governor Dickinson ordered an ouster hearing against McCrea and then suspended him pending the outcome of the hearing. McCrea defied the suspension and Attorney General Thomas Read instituted quo warranto proceedings to test the force of the governor's order.

Briefs from counsel for both sides were filed with the supreme court today, after counsel agreed to waive oral arguments.

McCrea argued that the suspension order was motivated by "political reasons" solely. Read said that McCrea was "obstructing justice" by refusing to relinquish his duties and by interfering with the grand jury's operations.

CENSUS LISTS PROVE PUZZLE TO ROOSEVELT

PRESIDENT DOESN'T KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS

Washington, April 2, (AP)—Census-takers called on President Roosevelt today and on Americans throughout the country but the president didn't know all the answers.

Although he's "head of the household" at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Mr. Roosevelt said there were questions about the servants and other phases of the establishment that he had to refer to an aide.

Still other questions, including those for an agricultural census, will be handled at Hyde Park, where the president maintains his legal residence.

One of 120,000

But the president told reporters afterwards that he had no hesitation in answering those he could. This apparently was his answer to charges by Senator Tobey (R-NH) that some of the questions violate the constitutional guarantees of personal privacy.

A blushing young enumerator named Raymond C. Connelly, accompanied by his boss, Director William L. Austin, called at the White House to take the census and earn his four cents. Meanwhile, Connelly's fellow enumerators, 120,000 of them throughout the country, set about the gigantic task of asking the nation's estimated 132,000,000 population an average of 15 questions apiece within one month.

Enumerator Brings Baby

Many of them found the job was no snap. A woman enumerator at Sandoval, Ill., delivered a baby for Mrs. Otto Heinrich. In Chicago another enumerator had to keep track of 22 children in one family.

The Baltimore supervisor cooperated with a woman in an arrangement to keep her husband from learning her true age. The supervisor at Seattle lost his voice as a result of two weeks' intensive lecturing of his staff.

Although President Roosevelt's session with the census-taker went off smoothly in a matter of minutes, it was a different story when the reporters went into his study for their regular press conference a moment later.

Reds Try To Patch Up Rift With U. S. And Lift Embargo

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A movement to improve relations between the United States and Soviet Russia has been launched by Russia, it was learned today after a conference of more than an hour between Secretary Hull and the Soviet ambassador, Constantine A. Oumansky.

The conference, however, failed to budge Hull from his determination to keep in force the moral embargo against the shipment of airplanes to Russia, even though the Russo-Finnish war has ended.

After the 65-minute conference, one of the longest sessions between Hull and an ambassador on record, Hull informed reporters that the embargo was still in effect. He added that it remained in effect against any country which deserved its penalties.

Pennsylvania Floods Claim Six Lives, Thousands Are Homeless

BY R. P. STEVENSON

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 2 (AP) Flood waters which have claimed six lives across Pennsylvania and left thousands temporarily homeless subsided an inch an hour tonight.

A forecast of rain permitted no let-up in the fight against the swirling tide—a fight of men and materials extending from this anthracite city of northeastern Pennsylvania west and south down the valley of the Susquehanna toward the Maryland border.

The feeling persisted that "the worst was over." But the flow still spread over low-lying industrial sections of Kingston, Pittston, and Plymouth, adjoining Wilkes-Barre. Upwards of 6,000 sought higher ground in this region alone.

An all-day threat, however, was a fire that burned for 30 hours dangerously close to tanks containing more than 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline. The flames started yesterday in a tank which overturned and exploded. Firemen working from a raft floated on empty oil drums extinguished the blaze with chemicals tonight.

At Sunbury, 65 miles downstream, other thousands also fled. But in both cities—regarded as chief danger spots in the flood's attack—dikes were holding as workmen struggled day and night to strengthen them and to detect and plug any weakening sections.

Along the 150 miles of the river below Wilkes-Barre the water was [illegible] as the rise apparently checked. In most places the water was falling.

At Wilkes-Barre the river came down from a high of 31.6 feet—two feet below the high of the memorable St. Patrick's Day flood of 1936—to [illegible] feet in about 12 hours. Dikes built to guard the city at least to 33 feet after the 1936 disaster held firm.

Sunbury reported the river dropping from a high of 29.11 feet to 19.10—almost eight feet below the 1936 high level.

Damage though not what was feared by those who remembered the 1936 crest was extensive. Mud and water alone already had caused heavy losses to machinery, furnishings and residence and business buildings.

Unless rains caused a new rise, residents of other riverbank communities expected to be able to get under way with the costly job of reconstructing and the rebuilding or strengthening of dikes.

MARRIAGE BY BOAT

Kingston, Pa., April 2 (AP)—A Kingston couple can say they actually sailed into the "sea of matrimony."

Carried to St. Hedwig's church by boat yesterday, Vito Wikowski and Jessie Kasak were married while flood waters rose steadily outside. Then they left by boat for a wedding reception at the bride's home.

MICHIGAN DRYS OUT FOR VOTES

Prohibition Party May Be Put Back On State Ballots In Fall

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—Michigan drys are reorganizing and will attempt to put the prohibition party back on the ballot next fall.

Since the 1932 election the Commonwealth party designation was used but this was not successful and in 1938 the gubernatorial candidate failed to poll the required minimum of votes. Thus the Commonwealth party disappears from the ballot.

According to a letter received by Wayne County Clerk Caspar J. Langeman from William Persons of Kalamazoo, the group now intends to organize once more as the Prohibition party.

Petitions signed by 7,757 registered voters, or one percent of the total cast by the successful candidate for secretary of state in the last election, are required to establish the party. At least 100 of these voters must be from each of 10 counties and no one county can file more than 35 percent of the total signatures.

The Prohibition party first appeared on a Michigan ballot in 1870. In 1880 it reached its peak with 28,861 votes cast for its gubernatorial candidate.

In 1932 when the forces of repeal prevailed in the nation the Michigan Prohibition party's gubernatorial candidate polled only 2,021 of the 1,600,000 votes cast for that office.

RETURNS LIST BIG GOP VOTE IN WISCONSIN

GARNER TRAILING: KANSAS CITY CLEANS UP

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt and a third term held commanding leads over the opposition forces of Vice President Garner early today as votes were tabulated from the presidential primaries in Wisconsin and four New York congressional districts.

At the same time, Wisconsin Republicans were giving Thomas E. Dewey, New York prosecuting attorney, an encouraging though not yet conclusive lead over Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, in their contest for the state's 21 convention delegates.

Mr. Roosevelt's lead in Wisconsin was more than two and one-half to one when nearly a quarter of the votes had been counted. In the sixteenth New York district, where the Garnerites made their most vigorous campaign, it was more than two to one. In the other contested districts in New York, the Garner forces were routed by margins of four and five to one.

Two Slates Entered

In each instance, Mr. Roosevelt's name had been entered without his stated permission, but the upshot of the voting was that, if he chooses to run, he apparently can count on most of the delegates from Wisconsin and New York.

The latter state had virtually been assured him in advance by substantial commitments from Tammany hall and its allied political organizations.

However, the president's lead in Wisconsin as a whole took no account of the actual election of convention delegates. That was done separately with two slates of Roosevelt delegates entered, as the result of an intra-party row in the state. The consequence was that with the Roosevelt vote divided, the actual results of the election in terms of Roosevelt and Garner delegates had not yet been determined.

Republicans Ahead

Politicians analyzed the Wisconsin voting, too, from the point of view of the comparative number of Republican and Democratic votes cast, and found the former slightly in the lead. In 1936 President Roosevelt received nearly twice as many primary votes as were cast by Republicans and carried the state in November by about the same ratio.

Dewey's candidacy was contested in but one New York district, and there he won handily.

Two municipal elections attracted attention. In Kansas City, the old Democratic machine once commanded by Boss Tom Pendergast was beaten by a fusion ticket, headed by John R. Gage for mayor. In Milwaukee, incomplete returns showed Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist mayor since 1916, in danger of defeat by 32-year-old Carl F. Zeidler.

TAMMANY ON TOP

New York, April 2 (AP)—Garner forces failed today in their challenge to Roosevelt third-term sentiment in New York's primary election.

Incomplete but apparently decisive returns late tonight from the only four congressional districts in which they opposed organization designees indicated that Garner candidates for election as delegates to the Democratic national convention had been soundly defeated in each case.

The regular designees—Tammany's and those of the allied Democratic organizations—while not formally committed are expected to support a third nomination for President Roosevelt, if he wants it.

At the same time, in the only contested district among the Republicans where opposition to Thomas E. Dewey, presidential aspirant, was a direct issue, candidates pledged to oppose his

BOTH BRITISH AND GERMANS BOMB BY AIR

SCAPA FLOW NAVAL BASE IS AGAIN ATTACKED

London, April 2, (AP)—British and German air forces stabbed in a brisk give and take across the North Sea today, the Germans dropping bombs in a new raid on Britain's great naval anchorage at Scapa Flow and attacking a British convoy, while the British let fall a new shower of bombs about patrol boats off Germany's Sylt base and attacked numerous raiders in the rapid exchange.

Air raid sirens howled when the bombers came over the Orkney islands at dusk. The all-clear signal was sounded 45 minutes later.

Civilians Watch

For about five minutes civilians living near Scapa Flow heard heavy anti-aircraft fire; then the explosions of bombs.

British fighter planes went up in pursuit of the raiders, which made off quickly.

(Germany announced that radio reports from the bombers showed a number of warships were attacked by heavy bombs; that some were damaged by direct hits and that one "listed heavily" after the attack.)

The roar from the engines of the attacking planes indicated a large number was engaged in the attack.

One Falls In Sea

The manager of a public works project said he saw one of the German planes spiral downward toward the sea.

Another spectator saw the flashes of five or six bombs as they splashed in the sea.

The raid on Scapa Flow was the first since March 16, a raid which was followed by a reprisal blow by the British on the Island of Sylt, when bombs rained for seven hours on the German seaplane base.

The air ministry, in announcing tonight's attack, said anti-aircraft fire from ships and shore batteries drove off the bombers before any ship was hit or damaged.

Without giving an indication of how extensive was the bombing, the ministry said one bomb fell on land, and that one German plane was believed to have been shot down.

Convoys Undamaged

The raid, however, apparently was less intensive than that of two weeks ago, when the Germans asserted they had hit four warships, and done extensive damage to airports and anti-aircraft positions.

The British admitted slight damage to but one warship in

Death Of Girl, 18, On Training Ship Remains Mystery

Detroit, April 2, (AP)—Developments remained at a standstill today as federal authorities continued their investigation into the mysterious death early last Saturday of 18-year-old Charlotte Mary Cranson aboard the naval reserve training ship Dubuque.

Federal bureau of investigation agents, in full charge of the case, said results of the inquiry would not be disclosed for several days. Still in custody are John W. Klanauskas, 20, caretaker of the Dubuque; Robert Newman, 18, and David Palmer, 19. Klanauskas was the dead girl's escort at an all-night party aboard the vessel.

Necklace Presented By King Of Sweden Stolen At Detroit

Detroit, April 2. (AP) — Police combed city pawnshops today for a pearl necklace owned by Goeta Ljundberg, Metropolitan opera star, and reported stolen in a jewelry store robbery here.

The necklace, containing a clasp of 14 diamonds, was presented to the singer when she appeared before King Gustav IV of Sweden in 1934. It had been taken to the jewelry store to be restrung.

Madame Ljungberg, in private life Mrs. Edwin Wedge, is visiting relatives here.

Bay City Fugitive Knifer Sentenced

Bay City, Mich., April 2 (AP)—Gale Watson, 23, of Coleman was sentenced today in circuit court to serve a term of three to four years imprisonment for felonious assault in a knife attack on Mrs. Marie Schwartz, 27. Watson, a fugitive from a Southern Michigan prison farm, had attempted to rob Mrs. Schwartz of her automobile on February 28.

Blonde Secret Agent Says Pelley Planned To Be King Of U. S.

BY MAX BOYD

Washington, April 2, (AP)—From the lips of a blonde secret agent—Miss Dorothy Waring, of New York—the Dies committee heard today that William Dudley Pelley had planned to use his Silver Legion to seize the United States government and make himself king.

And, at the same time, the committee received evidence that aides of the Asheville, N. C., publisher had kept in close touch with a national guard officer at Detroit who trained Ku Klux Klan members for cavalry duty during "the coming turmoil."

Fooled Committee

The story was unfolded under the direction of Rep. Dickstein (D-NY), vice chairman of the McCormack committee, which preceded the Dies committee in investigating un-American activities for the house.

Dickstein charged at the outset that Pelley had failed to give a true picture of his Silver Shirters when he appeared before the Dies group recently. On that occasion, Pelley expressed great admiration for the work the committee had been doing.

Dickstein said the publisher was a "Jew-baiter" and a self-styled "American fuehrer" whose aim was to replace the present government with one patterned after the Hitler regime.

"I charge that he was tied up with a number of army officers, and I have evidence to prove it," Dickstein said.

Miss Waring, called to the stand by Dickstein, said she was a journalist and a former secret agent for the McCormack committee. She was working as confidential secretary to Royal Scott Gulden, whom she identified as the leader of the Order of '76, when she first met Pelley, she testified.

The Silver Shirt leader visited headquarters of the Order of '76 in New York, she said, and, since she was living at the time on Park avenue and giving every evidence of affluence, he got the idea she was well-to-do.

Men All Armed

One evening in April, 1934, Miss Waring said, Pelley came to her apartment.

He was dressed in uniform and black boots, she related, and on a shoulder strap carried a pistol which she said she believed was the same one taken by committee agents later from Silver Shirt headquarters at Asheville.

Pelley tried to interest her in supporting the legion financially, the witness said.

"He explained that eventually the organization would march on Washington; that he would be the dictator of the country."

At another point she said he had assured her he would be the country's "white king."

Pelley, she said, told her his legionnaires were armed. She recalled, she added, seeing some correspondence, with either the Winchester or Remington arms companies, about the purchase of weapons for legionnaires.

RUMANIA PUTS BOYS ON FARM

Four Million Drafted to Keep Agriculture Normal for 1940

Bucharest, April 2 (AP)—In a dual move to satisfy export demands, Rumania announced today that 4,000,000 of her youths would be drafted into a vast agricultural army.

Diplomatic sources viewed the project as an answer to a German request that Rumania reduce her 1,600,000 armed forces by one third in order to release men for grain production for the Reich.

The German suggestion is said to have been accompanied by an offer to send 6,000 Nazi agricultural experts into Rumania to speed up production of cereals.

Under the government's program, many students will be released from school for a two-week period for work on farms. It was worked out at a conference of the chiefs of the Rumania youth movement and the ministers of agriculture and education.

Although the original German demobilization proposal has become a pivotal point in the current German-Rumanian economic talks, Rumanians hold that it would not be safe to reduce the armed strength of this Balkan kingdom at present.

On the other hand, Germany has expressed fear that exports of Rumanian cereals to Germany will dry up unless steps are taken to boost Rumania's lagging agricultural production, hard hit by a severe winter, late spring and widespread floods.

Plane Crash Fatal To Mayville Pastor

Saginaw, Mich., April 2 (AP)—The Rev. Paul Fields, pastor of the Mayville Baptist church, died tonight at St. Luke's hospital here of injuries suffered Saturday afternoon in an airplane crash.

The minister had suffered a skull fracture when a two-seat plane he had rented at Flint struck telegraph poles and fell on the Pere Marquette railroad right-of-way a mile from the Mayville business district. Witnesses had reported at the time that the minister had been flying low to distribute handbills from the plane.

COURT STUDIES WAYNE OUSTER

Ruling To Be Given On Right to Suspend Prosecutor

Lansing, April 2 (AP)—The supreme court is preparing a ruling on the governor's right to suspend an elected public official before he has been formally "tried" on a removal petition.

The case is another of the legal barriers erected by Duncan C. McCrea, Wayne county prosecutor, against attempts of grand jury officials to remove him from office and convict him of protecting vice and gambling in Wayne county.

On the request of Judge Homer Ferguson, the grand juror, Governor Dickinson ordered an ouster hearing against McCrea and then suspended him pending the outcome of the hearing. McCrea defied the suspension and Attorney General Thomas Read instituted quo warranto proceedings to test the force of the governor's order.

Briefs from counsel for both sides were filed with the supreme court today, after counsel agreed to waive oral arguments.

McCrea argued that the suspension order was motivated by "political reasons" solely. Read said that McCrea was "obstructing justice" by refusing to relinquish his duties and by interfering with the grand jury's operations.

CENSUS LISTS PROVE PUZZLE TO ROOSEVELT

PRESIDENT DOESN'T KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS

Washington, April 2, (AP)—Census-takers called on President Roosevelt today and on Americans throughout the country—but the president didn't know all the answers.

Although he's "head of the household" at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Mr. Roosevelt said there were questions about the servants and other phases of the establishment that he had to refer to an aide.

Still other questions, including those for an agricultural census, will be handled at Hyde Park, where the president maintains his legal residence.

One of 120,000

But the president told reporters afterwards that he had no hesitation in answering those he could. This apparently was his answer to charges by Senator Tobey (R-NH) that some of the questions violate the constitutional guarantees of personal privacy.

A blushing young enumerator named Raymond C. Connelly, accompanied by his boss, Director William L. Austin, called at the White House to take the census and earn his four cents. Meanwhile, Connelly's fellow enumerators, 120,000 of them throughout the country, set about the gigantic task of asking the nation's estimated 132,000,000 population an average of 15 questions apiece within one month.

Enumerator Brings Baby

Many of them found the job was no snap. A woman enumerator at Sandoval, Ill., delivered a baby for Mrs. Otto Heinrich. In Chicago another enumerator had to keep track of 22 children in one family.

The Baltimore supervisor cooperated with a woman in an arrangement to keep her husband from learning her true age. The supervisor at Seattle lost his voice as a result of two weeks' intensive lecturing of his staff.

Although President Roosevelt's session with the census-taker went off smoothly in a matter of minutes, it was a different story when the reporters went into his study for their regular press conference a moment later.

Reds Try To Patch Up Rift With U. S. And Lift Embargo

Washington, April 2. (AP)—A movement to improve relations between the United States and Soviet Russia has been launched by Russia, it was learned today after a conference of more than an hour between Secretary Hull and the Soviet ambassador, Constantine A. Oumansky.

The conference, however, failed to budge Hull from his determination to keep in force the moral embargo against the shipment of airplanes to Russia, even though the Russo-Finnish war has ended.

After the 65-minute conference, one of the longest sessions between Hull and an ambassador on record, Hull informed reporters that the embargo was still in effect. He added that it remained in effect against any country which incurred its penalties.

Pennsylvania Floods Claim Six Lives, Thousands Are Homeless

BY R. P. STEVENSON

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 2 (AP) Flood waters which have claimed six lives across Pennsylvania and left thousands temporarily homeless subsided an inch an hour tonight.

A forecast of rain permitted no let-up in the fight against the swirling tide—a fight of men and materials extending from this anthracite city of northeastern Pennsylvania west and south down the valley of the Susquehanna toward the Maryland border.

The feeling persisted that "the worst was over." But the flow still spread over low-lying industrial sections of Kingston, Pittston, and Plymouth, adjoining Wilkes-Barre. Upwards of 6,000 sought higher ground in this region alone.

An all-day threat, however, was a fire that burned for 30 hours dangerously close to tanks containing more than 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline. The flames started yesterday in a tank which overturned and exploded. Firemen working from a raft floated on empty oil drums extinguished the blaze with chemicals tonight.

At Sunbury, 65 miles downstream, other thousands also fled. But in both cities—regarded as chief danger spots in the flood's attack—dikes were holding as workmen struggled day and night to strengthen them and to detect and plug any weakening sections.

Along the 150 miles of the river below Wilkes-Barre the water was either receding or the rise apparently checked. In most places the water was falling.

At Wilkes-Barre the river came down from a high of 31.6 feet—two feet below the high of the memorable St. Patrick's Day flood of 1936—to 30.50 feet in about 12 hours. Dikes built to guard the city at least to 33 feet after the 1936 disaster held firm.

Sunbury reported the river dropping from a high of 20.14 feet to 10.10—almost eight feet below the 1936 high level.

Damage, though not what was feared by those who remembered the 1936 crest, was extensive. Mud and water alone already had caused heavy losses to machinery, furnishings and residence and business buildings.

Unless rains caused a new rise, residents of other riverbank communities expected to be able to get under way with the costly job of reconstructing and the rebuilding or strengthening of dikes.

MARRIAGE BY BOAT

Kingston, Pa., April 2, (AP)—A Kingston couple can say they actually sailed into the "sea of matrimony."

MICHIGAN DRYS OUT FOR VOTES

Prohibition Party May Be Put Back On State Ballots In Fall

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—Michigan drys are reorganizing and will attempt to put the prohibition party back on the ballot next fall.

Since the 1932 election the Commonwealth party designation was used but this was not successful and in 1938 the gubernatorial candidate failed to poll the required minimum of votes. Thus the Commonwealth party disappears from the ballot.

According to a letter received by Wayne County Clerk Caspar J. Lingeman from William Persons of Kalamazoo, the group now intends to organize once more as the Prohibition party.

Petitions signed by 7,757 registered voters, or one percent of the total cast by the successful candidate for secretary of state in the last election, are required to establish the party. At least 100 of these voters must be from each of 10 counties and no one county can file more than 35 percent of the total signatures.

The Prohibition party first appeared on a Michigan ballot in 1870. In 1880 it reached its peak with 28,861 votes cast for its gubernatorial candidate.

In 1932 when the forces of repeal prevailed in the nation the Michigan Prohibition party's gubernatorial candidate polled only 2,031 of the 1,600,000 votes cast for that office.

Farmer Gets Life At Hart As Killer Of His Housekeeper

Hart, Mich., April 2. (AP)—Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley today sentenced Tony Bernatos, 57, Crystal township farmer, to life imprisonment at hard labor and in solitary confinement for the slaying of his housekeeper, Mrs. Petronele Andrulis, 57.

The life term was the first ever meted out in Oceana county. Bernatos took the sentence stoically.

Bernatos admitted shooting the housekeeper last Thursday in her bed because of her insistence he pay a mortgage she held on his farm home.

Morristown, Pa., April 2. (AP)—A jury that deliberated only 45 minutes today convicted Benjamin McCabe of first degree murder and recommended life imprisonment for smothing his infant son last January.

The trial opened only yesterday. Assistant District Attorney John Flynn told the jury McCabe said he held a pillow over the baby's mouth because "I knew that the kid didn't have a chance, what with the bills coming."

RETURNS LIST BIG GOP VOTE IN WISCONSIN

GARNER TRAILING: KANSAS CITY CLEANS UP

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt and a third term held commanding leads over the opposition forces of Vice President Garner early today as votes were tabulated from the presidential primaries in Wisconsin and four New York congressional districts.

At the same time, Wisconsin Republicans were giving Thomas E. Dewey, New York prosecuting attorney, an encouraging though not yet conclusive lead over Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, in their contest for the state's 24 convention delegates.

Mr. Roosevelt's lead in Wisconsin was more than two and one-half to one when nearly a quarter of the votes had been counted. In the sixteenth New York district, where the Garnerites made their most vigorous campaign, it was more than two to one. In the other contested districts in New York, the Garner forces were routed by margins of four and five to one.

Two Slates Entered

In each instance, Mr. Roosevelt's name had been entered without his stated permission, but the upshot of the voting was that, if he chooses to run, he apparently can count on most of the delegates from Wisconsin and New York.

The latter state had virtually been assured him in advance by substantial commitments from Tammany hall and its allied political organizations.

However, the president's lead in Wisconsin as a whole took no account of the actual election of convention delegates. That was done separately with two slates of Roosevelt delegates entered, as the result of an intra-party row in the state. The consequence was that with the Roosevelt vote divided, the actual results of the election in terms of Roosevelt and Garner delegates had not yet been determined.

Republicans Ahead

Politicians analyzed the Wisconsin voting, too, from the point of view of the comparative number of Republican and Democratic votes cast, and found the former slightly in the lead. In 1936 President Roosevelt received nearly twice as many primary votes as were cast by Republicans and carried the state in November by about the same ratio.

Dewey's candidacy was contested in but one New York district, and there he won handily.

Two municipal elections attracted attention. In Kansas City, the old Democratic machine once commanded by Boss Tom Pendergast was beaten by a fusion ticket, headed by John R. Gage for mayor. In Milwaukee, incomplete returns showed Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist mayor since 1916, in danger of defeat by 32-year-old Carl F. Zeidler.

TAMMANY ON TOP

New York, April 2 (AP)—Garner forces failed today in their challenge to Roosevelt third-term sentiment in New York's primary election.

Incomplete but apparently decisive returns late tonight from the only four congressional districts in which they opposed organization designees indicated that Garner candidates for election as delegates to the Democratic national convention had been soundly defeated in each case.

The regular designees—Tammany's and those of the allied Democratic organizations — while not formally committed are expected to support a third nomination for President Roosevelt, if he wants it.

At the same time, in the only contested district among the Republicans where opposition to Thomas E. Dewey, presidential aspirant, was a direct issue, candidates pledged to oppose his

BROTHELS LIST VICE RAKE-OFF

Keeper of Bawdy House In Detroit Witness at Graft Inquiry

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—After taking testimony from suburban police chiefs and a handbook operator the state turned late today to another phase of its investigation of gambling and vice and placed upon the stand a woman brothel-keeper.

The witness was Hattie Mills, listed as a co-conspirator but not a defendant in the case of Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea, Sheriff Thomas C. Wilcox and 13 others accused of conspiring to protect vice and gambling in Wayne county.

Protection Comes High

Miss Mills' testimony related to the time of raids at a Hamtramck bawdy house. She said payments of approximately $1,000 a month were made.

The state at an examination before Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson is attempting to show that the prosecutor, the sheriff and others should be held for trial on a charge that protection money was paid by Wayne county gambling places and vice dens.

The 15 defendants were indicted by a special grand jury. Among the defendants is Bertha Johnson, accused as owner of a Hamtramck brothel in which Miss Mills was employed as a house keeper.

Preceding the testimony of Miss Mills was that of James C. Day, [illegible] of [illegible] Grosse Pointe Park.

Garska, it was testified, owned a majority interest in one of the handbooks and had a working agreement with the other two, the result being a monopoly.

Garska was defeated March 16 in his campaign for reelection as village president.

August Romberg, who said he was a partner in the handbook in which Garska allegedly was interested, described the daily gross at about $1,200 on weekdays and $3,000 on Saturday. For 17 months prior to March 1939, Romberg said, [illegible] a month was set aside for payment to the office of the prosecutor and sheriff.

Navigation Opening Forecast Is April 15

Detroit, April 2. (AP)—Opening of the navigation season in the upper Great Lakes by the middle of the month was forecast today by the United States weather bureau here.

In his weekly report, Meteorologist Clarence J. Root said indications point to the opening of navigation in the St. Mary's river between April 10 and 15 and that steamers should make passage in the Straits of Mackinac "without trouble" by April 15.

Drifting ice fields and "much open water" was reported in Lakes Huron, Michigan, St. Clair and Erie.

The Lake St. Clair ship channel was said to be clear "within range of vision" with the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, down which broken ice is moving, open except for a possible ice gorge at Algonac.

Ice in Whitefish Bay was reported moving out into Lake Superior with thickness in bays, harbors and channels varying from four to 33 inches. Much of the ice, the report said, is honeycombing or turning black.

In the St. Mary's River water was said to be open below locks to near Six Mile Point and opening fast above the locks. Open water was reported from Mackinac Island to west of Mackinaw City and in the south channel east of Fourteen Foot Shoals. Seventeen inches of blue ice was reported in Escanaba harbor.

The western half of Lake Erie has moving fields and much open water, the report added. Lake Huron ice is breaking up but six-inch ice beyond vision was reported at Port Huron.

nomination were defeated badly.

The district in which the Garner people had concentrated their campaign, the 16th congressional, showed the Tammany designees, Rep. James F. Fay, a 100 percent new dealer, and John Eagen leading by more than 2 to 1.

In the 23rd district, organization designees had leads of around 4 to 1, in the 2nd, where Ed Flynn, pro-Roosevelt Democratic boss of the Bronx, was one of the candidates for delegates, better than 3 to 1, in the first district about 5 to 1.

At midnight the outcome of the intra-party fight between right and left for control of the American labor party had not been indicated.

MARGIN INCREASED

Milwaukee, April 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt increased his early lead to a nearly two and a half to one margin over Vice President Garner as returns from the Wisconsin presidential preference primary neared the one quarter mark tonight.

HOAN SLIPPING

Milwaukee, April 2, (AP)—Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, dean of the nation's big city mayors, appeared in imminent danger of defeat on the basis of incomplete returns tonight from the Milwaukee municipal election.

With nearly three fourths of the vote counted the mayor trailed 42-year-old Carl F. Zeidler by almost 10,000.

Zeidler, handsome young singer whose fine baritone voice was put to use in the campaign to entertain audiences at his rallies, resigned as assistant city attorney to oppose the mayor's reelection.

The election was non-partisan.

No returns from Milwaukee county were included.

1936 Total Compared

The significance of these figures comes in a comparison with the 1936 primary and general election. Four years ago, Mr. Roosevelt received a primary vote more than twice as large as the Republican total and carried the state in November by the same ratio.

Returns from 275 precincts showed Dewey delegates were receiving slightly less than two votes to every one for Vandenberg candidates.

These reports gave the four Dewey delegate-at-large candidates an average vote of 19,116; the Vandenberg quartet an average of 11,811.

For delegates to the Democratic national convention the Roosevelt [illegible] faction led by National Committeeman Charles E. Broughton had a small lead in the [illegible] 244 precincts reporting.

A second Roosevelt pledged ticket was running neck and neck with candidates pledged to Garner.

Weather Unfavorable

The first returns from a Sheboygan county precinct gave the president a [illegible] margin over the vice president, a ratio carried through as other early reports were tabulated.

Chilly, wet weather kept the voting light generally, although some spirited mayoral contests in the larger cities, including Milwaukee, produced a heavy turnout at the polls.

The deadline for voting was 6 p.m. (CST) in rural districts and 8 p.m. in Milwaukee. The complicated Democratic ballot augured headaches for those assigned to count the vote.

In each party, 24 convention delegate seats—two for each congressional district and four from the state at large—were at stake.

In addition to voting for delegates pledged either to the president or to Vice President John N. Garner, Democrats could show their preference by balloting for Mr. Roosevelt or Garner.

Vote Not Binding

The preference vote was merely advisory and not binding. It left the possibility, however, of one of the candidates winning the preference vote and losing the delegation to his opponent because three slates of candidates—two for Roosevelt and one for Garner—were competing for the delegate seats.

Should this occur, the candidate winning control of the delegation would be the actual victor because of the pledges of the delegates.

The delegate pledge is a purely moral obligation and election law fixes no limits to the length of time such a pledge holds. The precedent is that the delegate stands by his candidate until he conscientiously believes he has no chance for the nomination.

Dewey and Vandenberg were not entered for a preference vote on the Republican ballot. Their strength will be determined merely by the result of the delegate election.

In the light of the last similar election, today's voting stood as a barometer of Mr. Roosevelt's strength and that of the Republican party in November. In the primary of 1936, Mr. Roosevelt drew 401,[illegible] votes and the late Senator William Borah of Idaho, [illegible]. In the November election the ratio of the vote varied, with Mr. Roosevelt polling 802,[illegible] and Alf M. Landon, the Republican nominee, 380,828.

BOTH BRITISH AND GERMANS BOMB BY AIR

that raid, but said the first British civilian casualties of the war were inflicted. The raid on Sylt followed.

The British admiralty said the convoy raid was a failure. At least ten bombs were dropped by the German fliers, the British said, but the attacked ships zig-zagged successfully and came out unscathed while anti-aircraft fire from the escorting men o' war drove off the planes.

"The convoys are proceeding on their voyages," ended the statement by the laconic admiralty, which quotes odds of 515 to 1 against a convoyed ship being sunk by German action.

Crew Scuttles Ship

The admiralty also announced the interception and scuttling "in northern waters" of the 4,007-ton German freighter Mimi Horn, which recently left the Dutch West Indies port of Curacao. The ship was set afire by her crew, the announcement said.

This, according to British figures, brought to 303,946 tons the German merchant ship losses by capture or self-destruction. On the other hand, the admiralty reported losses to allied and neutral shipping in the week ended Sunday midnight had fallen to 13,901 tons, lowest since the first week of the new year. The British list did not include the Netherlands fishing trawler Protinus, sunk by a mine March 26, or the 5,439-ton freighter Barnhill, bombed and set on fire at the close of the preceding week and now regarded a total loss.

Neutral naval circles believed that the recession of attacks by German submarines might mean that Germany is coming to the opinion that it is "bad business" to attack convoys.

They also said the slacking off in shipping losses could be traced in part to the work of allied mine sweepers, which are keeping channels clear for food ships.

R.A.F. Exploits Listed

The royal air force's air exploits in the last 24 hours were listed this way:

Near or over Sylt: British planes yesterday bombed German patrol boats, the air ministry said. One British plane was lost and a German freighter wrecked. (Germany said the raid was a failure and that all 25 bombs dropped had missed. The Germans claimed that 3 British planes, altogether, were shot down during Monday.)

Elsewhere in the North Sea: A lone British plane encountered a German Junkers and forced it to flee with damaged fuselage, trailing black smoke. Early in the morning, three British Hurricanes encountered two German Heinkel bombers over the North Sea and a fight opened in which the planes flew just over the tops of the waves. One British plane was forced to land short of its base, but on British soil, because its pilot was wounded in the leg. One German plane was reported silenced by a burst of fire "from eight guns" of the leading R.A.F. plane. The R.A.F. pilot had never before been in battle.

The Western Front: Three British Hurricane fighters fought nine German Messerschmitt "110s" Monday and reported they believed they had bagged one apiece. Correspondents with the R.A.F. said Hurricane fighters, with the loss of only one plane, had shot down ten Messerschmitts over the front lines within a week.

Home Construction To Reach High Mark

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Stewart McDonald, federal housing administrator, announced today that FHA business had established three high marks in the last week of March and predicted that the volume of home construction this year would be the highest in 12 years.

He reported these records for the week ended March 30:

Work was begun on 3,274 small homes under FHA inspection, compared with 3,266 in the preceding week and 3,122 during the peak of 1939 period. Applications for FHA mortgage insurance on new homes totalled 1,966, compared with 4,434 in the preceding week and 4,268 in the best week last year. Mortgages selected for appraisal totalled 6,565, against 6,501 in the highest week in 1939.

Roosevelt Submits New Plan to Shift Federal Agencies

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A third government reorganization plan, calling for reshuffling of half a dozen agencies and abolition of some jobs and offices, was submitted to congress today by President Roosevelt.

Estimating that the plan would result in savings of about $150,000 a year, Mr. Roosevelt told the legislators that this "comparatively small amount in no way measures the worth of the proposals." Their principal advantage, he said, "will be increased effectiveness of operation of the agencies concerned."

The plan would:

1—Consolidate the bureau of fisheries and the bureau of biological survey into a single bureau to be known as the fish and wild life service.

2—Consolidate into a fiscal service in the treasury the office of the treasurer of the United States, the office of commissioner of accounts, and the public debt service.

3—Correlate the functions of the federal alcohol administrator with the activities of the bureau of internal revenue, particularly the latter's alcohol tax unit.

4—Consolidate the division of marketing and marketing agreements of the agricultural adjustment administration and the federal surplus commodities corporation into an agency to be known as the surplus marketing administration.

5—Abolish the offices of commissioner of immigration and district commissioner of immigration and naturalization. Both are in the labor department.

6—Clarify the relations of the administrator of the civil aeronautics authority and the five-man board of the CAA by making the administrator the chief administrative officer of the authority "with respect to all functions other than those relating to economic regulation and certain other activities." This, Mr. Roosevelt said, would eliminate confusion of responsibilities.

7—Abolish the statutory office of recorder of the general land office of the interior department, its duties to be absorbed by the regular civil service personnel of the land office.

The order will become effective automatically within sixty days unless rejected by both houses of congress.

Under Mr. Roosevelt's second reorganization plan, the bureau of fisheries was transferred from the commerce to the interior department, and the bureau of biological survey was shifted from agriculture to interior. Mr. Roosevelt said today, however, that the "natural areas of operation of these two bureaus frequently coincide, and their activities are interrelated and similar in character." Consolidation, he added, will "eliminate duplication of work, facilitate coordination of programs and improve service to the public."

The new fish and wildlife service would be administered by a director and not more than two assistant directors.

BUDGET RAISED ON WATERWAYS

Senate Votes Increase Despite President's Veto Warning

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Disregarding a veto warning from the president, the senate commerce committee approved today a $231,090,950 program for waterways improvements to be extended over seven years beginning July 1, 1941.

Chairman Bailey (D-NC), who last year reported the shelving of a similar but larger bill with the comment that "economy is abroad in the land," announced today's action with the remark that "we had to have a bill this year." He did not amplify this statement.

Bailey, although he reminded the committee that President Roosevelt had indicated he would veto any legislation at this session authorizing new rivers and harbors or flood control projects, joined 11 colleagues in approving the measure. Four senators voted against a favorable report.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters today he had informed members of congress interested in navigation and flood control projects that he would sign a bill authorizing $200,000,000 in such works if they would put through legislation cancelling $250,000,000 of previous authorizations. Their reply, he added, was that obviously such a bill could not be passed.

Bailey called attention to the fact that the measure was confined to navigation projects, and said his committee would consider multiple purpose projects—combining flood control or power development with navigation improvements—only after the house had acted on the legislation now before the house flood control committee.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), one of the four who voted against the bill in committee, said new projects should be postponed "until we have found a way to pay for the old ones," and added that the measure would "collide with the fiscal policy of the president."

Last year the house passed a bill authorizing new rivers and harbors projects estimated to cost $83,848,100. The senate commerce committee added projects which brought the total to $107,855,600.

The bill approved by the committee today would authorize, among many others, the following projects: Green Bay Harbor Wis., $56,000; Milwaukee harbor, Wis.; $110,000; St. Joseph harbor, Mich., $74,000; Grand Haven harbor and Grand River Mich., $150,000.

Sales Tax Receipts $721,000 Over 1939

Lansing, April 2. (AP)—Sales tax collections in Michigan during March were $721,000 above receipts for the corresponding month last year, the state board of tax administration reported today.

The board said collections last month amounted to $4,543,000.

For the first nine months of the year, the board said, collections were $6,643,000 more than in nine months last year, while the use tax brought in $717,500, compared with $346,000 in the preceding year.

From the two sources the board said, this year's net gain was $7,014,000.

BROTHELS LIST VICE RAKE-OFF

Keeper of Bawdy House In Detroit Witness at Graft Inquiry

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—After taking testimony from suburban police chiefs and a handbook operator the state turned late today to another phase of its investigation of gambling and vice and placed upon the stand a woman brothel-keeper.

The witness was Hattie Miller, listed as a co-conspirator but not a defendant in the case of Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea, Sheriff Thomas C. Wilcox and 33 others accused of conspiring to protect vice and gambling in Wayne county.

Protection Comes High

Miss Miller's testimony related to the time of raids at a Hamtramck bawdy house. She said payments of approximately $1,000 a month were made.

The state at an examination before Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson is attempting to show that the prosecutor, the sheriff and others should be held for trial on a charge that protection money was paid by Wayne county gambling places and vice dens.

The 35 defendants were indicted by a special grand jury. Among the defendants is Bertha Johnson, accused as owner of a Hamtramck brothel in which Miss Miller is employed as a housekeeper.

Preceding the testimony of Miss Miller was that of James C. Drysdale, chief of police at Grosse Pointe Park.

Drysdale testified that from 1935 until late in 1939 only three handbooks operated in the village because the president, Alfred J. Garska, one of the defendants, refused to permit other gambling concerns to come in.

Monopoly On Handbooks

Garska, it was testified, owned a majority interest in one of the handbooks and had a working agreement with the other two, the result being a monopoly.

Garska was defeated March 16 in his campaign for reelection as village president.

August Bamberg, who said he was a partner in the handbook in which Garska allegedly was interested, described the daily gross at about $1,700 on weekdays and $3,000 on Saturdays. For 17 months prior to August, 1939, Bamberg said, $275 a month was set aside as payments to the offices of the prosecutor and sheriff.

Because of overhead and "protection," Bamberg testified, the net profit was less than $1,000 a month.

Prosecutor McCrea, acting as his own lawyer, has endeavored to show in cross examiationn that he was not linked with the evidence submitted. Yesterday after Barney J. Nowicki, suspended Hamtramck police chief, had testified about operations of Hamtramck vice dens during McCrea's tenure McCrea drew from him the statement that the places in question had been operating for "18 or 20 years."

Michigan Baseball Squad Chosen For Trip To Southland

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 2 (AP)—Coach Ray Fisher today named a University of Michigan baseball squad of 15 to leave tomorrow on an eight-game southern trip.

Five pitchers, headed by Jack Barry and Russell Dobson, veteran righthanders, were selected, and Fisher said that Dobson, a senior from Ann Arbor, would hurl the opener against North Carolina Friday. Barry, from Katonah, N. Y., will oppose Duke Saturday.

Other pitchers named were Lyle Bond, of Clare; Lester Veigel, of Tuscarawas, Ohio, and Maynard Stoddard, of Davidson.

Forest Evashevski and George Harms, both of Detroit, were named as catchers. Others were Infielders George Ruehle and Bill Stppon, Detroit; Mike Sofiak, Gary, Ind.; and Francis Chamberlain, Royal Oak., and Outfielders Charlie Pink, Don Holman and Dave Nelson, Detroit, and Fred Trosko, Flint.

Three sophomores probably will break into the starting lineup, Ruehle at first base, Chamberlain at third base and Holman in right field.

Other games on the trip are: April 8, Washington and Lee; April 9, Virginia Military Academy; April 10, Naval Academy; April 11, Virtinia; April 12, Maryland; April 13, Geogetown.

the mortgage on the White House, Mr. President?" a reported inquired.

The president, laughing heartily, replied that he didn't have to answer that question because it fell in a category above $5,000.

Vice President Garner was counted at his capitol office by pretty, dark-eyed Catherine G. Parker, assistant area manager.

"No, ma'am," he told her, "I haven't got a mortgage on my property. I don't owe anybody anything except love and affection."

COOPERATION URGED

Lansing, April 2, (AP)—Michigan citizens were urged by Governor Dickinson today to cooperate with federal census takers.

In a prepared statement, Dickinson declared "the compiling of the federal census is a gigantic undertaking, but it is a highly important one which has a distinct bearing upon many phases of our national life. The information compiled is of great value to all of us in all lines of our personal activity. Cooperation with and assistance to the government in compilation of the census is a x x duty of high citizenship."

Rangers Take Leafs 2 to 1 In Overtime Stanley Cup Battle

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 2 (AP)—Alf Pike, New York Ranger rookie who came close to being the goat of the first game of the Stanley Cup hockey finals, emerged as the hero tonight when he scored a goal after 15 minutes and 30 seconds of "sudden death" overtime play to give the Rangers a 2 to 1 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

It was Pike whose misplay in the first period had cost the Rangers a possible chance to end the first game of the final round within the regular three periods. But he more than made up for this error in the eyes of a crowd of 12,347 when he blasted a beautiful shot past Turk Broda, the Toronto goalie, to bring the game to an abrupt end.

Lynn Patrick drew an assist on the winning tally but it was Pike, a first-year man in big league hockey and rated only as a spare forward with the Rangers, who did most of the work. He picked up the puck in the center zone, passed to Patrick at the blue line and received a return pass just as he hit the Toronto defense. Bingo Kampman tried to stop him but was too late as Pike got off a high, hard shot that sailed under Broda's arm before the goalie could make a move.

Navigation Opening Forecast Is April 15

Detroit, April 2. (AP)—Opening of the navigation season in the upper Great Lakes by the middle of the month was forecast today by the United States weather bureau here.

In his weekly report, Meteorologist Clarence J. Root said indications point to the opening of navigation in the St. Mary's river between April 10 and 15 and that steamers should make passage in the Straits of Mackinac "without trouble" by April 15.

Drifting ice fields and "much open water" was reported in Lakes Huron, Michigan, St. Clair and Erie.

The Lake St. Clair ship channel was said to be clear "within range of vision" with the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, down which broken ice is moving, open except for a possible ice gorge at Algonac.

Ice in Whitefish Bay was reported moving out into Lake Superior with thickness in bays, harbors and channels varying from four to 33 inches. Much of the ice, the report said, is honeycombing or turning black.

In the St. Mary's River water was said to be open below locks to near Six-Mile Point and opening fast above the locks. Open water was reported from Mackinac Island to west of Mackinaw City and in the south channel east of Fourteen Foot Shoals. Seventeen inches of blue ice was reported in Escanaba harbor.

The western half of Lake Erie has moving fields and much open water, the report added. Lake Huron ice is breaking up but six-inch ice beyond vision was reported at Port Huron.

nomination were defeated badly.

The district in which the Garner people had concentrated their campaign—the 16th congressional—showed the Tammany designees, Rep. James F. Fay, a 100 percent new dealer, and John Eagen leading by more than 2 to 1.

The vote: Fay, 4,799; Eagan, 4,737; Alfred E. Smith, Jr., 2,125 and State Senator John McNaboe 2,141.

In the 23rd district, organization designees had leads of around 4 to 1; in the 22nd (where Ed Flynn, pro-Roosevelt Democratic boss of the Bronx, was one of the candidates for delegate), better than 5 to 1; in the first district about 5 to 1.

At midnight, the outcome of the intra-party fight between right and left for control of the American labor party had not been indicated.

MARGIN INCREASED

Milwaukee, April 2, (AP)—President Roosevelt increased his early lead to a nearly two and a half to one margin over Vice President Garner as returns from the Wisconsin presidential preference primary neared the one-quarter mark tonight.

The vote in 652 out of 3,011 precincts:

Roosevelt 30,808; Garner 13,911.

The voters expressed themselves directly in the presidential preference balloting in which the president was opposed by Vice President Garner, whose supporters campaigned on the proposition that a vote for their man would be a declaration against the draft Roosevelt movement.

HOAN SLIPPING

Milwaukee, April 2, (AP)—Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, dean of the nation's big city mayors, appeared in imminent danger of defeat on the basis of incomplete returns tonight from the Milwaukee municipal election.

With nearly three-fourths of the vote counted, the mayor trailed 32-year-old Carl F. Zeidler by almost 10,000.

Returns from 300 precincts out of 435 gave:

Zeidler 75,516; Hoan 65,653.

Zeidler, handsome young singer whose fine baritone voice was put to use in the campaign to entertain audiences at his rallies, resigned as assistant city attorney to oppose the mayor's re-election.

Hoan, a socialist, has been mayor since 1916.

The election was non-partisan.

No returns from Milwaukee county were included.

There was evidence aplenty, however, that a rocky road lies ahead of the Democrats—the Republicans were outvoting them 10 to 9 in giving delegates pledged to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York an early lead over those committed to vote for the nomination of Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg of Michigan in the Republican national convention.

1936 Total Compared

This significance of these figures comes in a comparison with the 1936 primary and general election totals. Four years ago, Mr. Roosevelt received a primary vote more than twice as large as the Republican total, and carried the state in November by the same ratio.

Returns from 395 precincts showed Dewey delegates were receiving slightly less than two votes to every one for Vandenberg candidates.

These reports gave the four Dewey delegate-at-large candidates an average vote of 19,446, the Vandenberg quartet an average of 11,813.

For delegates to the Democratic national convention, the Roosevelt-Farley faction led by National Committeeman Charles E. Broughton had a small lead in the first 244 precincts reporting.

A second Roosevelt-pledged ticket was running neck and neck with candidates pledged to Garner.

Weather Unfavorable

The first returns, from a Sheboygan county precinct, gave the president a 8 to 12 margin over the vice-president, a ratio carried through as other early reports were tabulated.

Chilly, wet weather kept the voting light generally although some spirited mayoral contests in the larger cities, including Milwaukee, produced a heavy turnout at the polls.

The deadline for voting was 6 p. m. (CST) in rural districts and 8 p. m. in Milwaukee. The complicated Democratic ballot augured headaches for those assigned to count the vote.

In each party, 24 convention delegate seats—two for each congressional district and four from the state at large—were at stake.

In addition to voting for delegates pledged either to the president or to Vice President John N. Garner, Democrats could show their preference by balloting for Mr. Roosevelt or Garner.

Vote Not Binding

The preference vote was merely advisory and not binding. It left the possibility, however, of one of the candidates winning the preference vote and losing the delegation to his opponent because three slates of candidates—two for Roosevelt and one for Garner—were competing for the delegate seats.

Should this occur, the candidate winning control of the delegation would be the actual victor because of the pledges of the delegates.

The delegate pledge is a purely moral obligation and election law fixes no limits to the length of time such a pledge holds. The precedent is that the delegate stands by his candidate until he conscientiously believes he has no chance for the nomination.

Dewey and Vandenberg were not entered for a preference vote on the Republican ballot. Their strength will be determined merely by the result of the delegate election.

In the light of the last similar election, today's voting stood as a barometer of Mr. Roosevelt's strength and that of the Republican party in November. In the primary of 1936, Mr. Roosevelt drew 401,773 votes and the late Senator William Borah of Idaho, 187,334. In the November election, the ratio of the vote varied little, Mr. Roosevelt polling 802,894 and Alf M. Landon, the Republican nominee, 380,828.

Bailey called attention to the fact that the measure was confined to navigation projects, and said his committee would consider multiple purpose projects—combining flood control or power development with navigation improvements—only after the house had acted on the legislation now before the house flood control committee.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), one of the four who voted against the bill in committee, said new projects should be postponed "until we have found a way to pay for the old ones," and added that the measure would "collide with the fiscal policy of the president."

Last year the house passed a bill authorizing new rivers and harbors projects estimated to cost $83,848,100. The senate commerce committee added projects which brought the total to $407,855,600.

The bill approved by the committee today would authorize, among many others, the following projects: Green Bay Harbor, Wis., $56,000; Milwaukee harbor, Wis.; $110,000; St. Joseph harbor, Mich., $74,000; Grand Haven harbor and Grand River, Mich., $150,000.

DELTA BREWERY AUCTION IS OFF

Schmit Is Authorized to Sell Privately; Bids All Unsatisfactory

The Delta Brewery property remained unsold last night after an afternoon and evening of further negotiations to get a satisfactory price for it in a final auction before Referee in Bankruptcy George C. Quinnell of Marquette at the county courthouse.

Yesterday's auction represented the third effort of the referee to get a satisfactory price, and although one new offer was made on a newly presented plan of sale, all auction bids were considered unsatisfactory by the referee and he authorized Trustee William J. Schmit of Escanaba to dispose of the property privately. The auction was declared closed and all bids rejected.

Similar authorization for private sale was given last Wednesday at the close of a previous unsuccessful auction effort, with the session yesterday scheduled to consider any private bids and give previous bidders opportunity to match any private offers.

A Last Effort

Mr. Schmit reported, however, that no offers had been made privately, so that the bids of Jack Kader of Milwaukee, high at last Wednesday's session, remained in effect. He had bid $8,000 for the property subject to the real estate mortgage and $26,800, free and clear of all claims.

In a last effort yesterday to get a satisfactory price, Mr. Quinnell devised another manner of offering the property. This was: All the property of the brewery, subject to all liens and encumberances, including the real estate and roughly $6,325 in mortgages on equipment.

For this, there was brief and spirited bidding, that began at $3,000 and ended at $3,500, with Michael Tanver Co. of Chicago high. Meyer Kronik and Mr. Kader of Milwaukee, chief bidders at last Wednesday's session, also offered bids on this parcel.

"I had hoped," Referee Quinnell remarked, "that this manner of offering might bring enough to pay court and administration costs, but this offer would far from satisfy such claims." (They have been estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000.)

He added that offering the property subject to the liens and mortgage seemed a fair way of protecting holders of claims.

A recess was called at 3:45 until 5 o'clock, and then another recess was taken until 7:15 p. m., when negotiations continued. But shortly before 9 o'clock the referee announced his decision: The auction is finished.

Local Interest Shown

If Mr. Schmit, the trustee, can obtain a fair price in private, it will be reported for confirmation by the referee. There was no time limit set as to when a report shall be made.

But there was strong evidence yesterday that local interests may take over the property and operate the business. Action of some sort is anticipated within a few days, Mr. Schmit indicated.

Sale of the property "free and clear" of liens and mortgage, either or both real or chattel, was objected to by attorneys for the real estate and chattel mortgagees.

Edward A. Smith of Detroit, formerly of Gladstone, was present to object for his clients that the property should not be sold free and clear, unless the price offered would guarantee the payment of the claim of approximately $50,000. He challenged the court's legal right to make such a sale.

Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone, representing the holders of mortgages on some of the machinery, offered similar objection.

Concessions Possible

Mr. Smith said he understood some in Escanaba are interesting in obtaining and operating the plant, and that it seemed likely that in a week or 10 days a plan might be found whereby the mortgagees would be protected. He suggested that if conditions were favorable, the real estate mortgagees might make concessions and Mr. Jackson added that his clients also might be favorable to concessions under proper conditions.

Mr. Smith spent part of the afternoon attempting to telephone Mrs. H. G. Wall of Indianapolis, one of the larger holders of mortgage claims against the property, but she was reported enroute to Washington, D. C., and was not available. Mrs. Lena B. Vradenburg, another large mortgage holder, also was represented by both her husband and Attorney Smith.

Wickman Leads Field

S. R. WICKMAN, a newcomer in Escanaba politics, scored an outstanding personal victory at the municipal election on Monday when he led a field of ten candidates, seeking three vacancies on the city council. Mr. Wickman led the field in every voting precinct of the city, with the exception of the seventh, the home precinct of Carl B. Johnson and Joseph White and from the filing of the first returns, he was never headed by any contestant in the field.

The re-election of "Pat" Gasman and Carl B. Johnson, to fill the remaining two vacancies in the council, constitutes not only a personal victory for these two men but is an endorsement of their records of service on the council.

To Fred J. Earle, also a newcomer in Escanaba politics, goes the honor of being the runner-up in Monday's election results. The race for third place on the successful ticket was a close one between Johnson and Earle and it was not until the final ward reported its vote the victor was finally determined.

Sam Wickman should make an outstanding member of the new council. Born in Escanaba and associated in some capacity with one of Escanaba's important industries during all of the working years of his life, Mr. Wickman knows Escanaba and her needs. An accident forced him to relinquish his position as local manager for the C. Reiss Coal company about a year and a half ago, so he has ample time to give to his new responsibility. In addition it will provide him with a most interesting and intriguing subject, with which to occupy his mind and in public service he will find a field where his business and personal experience of the past will permit him to render valuable service to his community.

Advertising Pays

ACCORDING to the Empire State Travel association New York state in the last year reaped a profit of more than $1,200,000, or several hundred per cent, in the form of gasoline taxes paid by out-of-state motorists, while an additional $400,000,000 from tourists was circulated in every avenue of trade on an advertising investment of $200,000.

New York state's experience emphatically supports the arguments of those who opposed the views of Budget Director Gus Hartman when he said that the proposed $50,000 appropriation for national advertising of Michigan's recreational attractions was unnecessary. The budget director reasoned that since people cannot go abroad, they will come to Michigan without any advertising. He overlooked the fact, however, that New York and other states are also making a determined bid for the tourist business.

Before [illegible] only [illegible] states made any provision in their budgets for advertising. Now [illegible] have earmarked funds available to [illegible] their wares of attractions throughout the nation. A total of $4,400,000 has been appropriated and thirteen of the states have appropriated $100,000 each. Florida, which long ago became conscious of its claims as a vacation wonderland, leads the list with $825,000. It might be mentioned that Michigan allots $100,000 annually to the four tourist associations. The $50,000 appropriation was an additional request for national advertising.

Many of the benefits from advertising are [illegible] to [illegible] measurement, but some of the states which began advertising in recent years already have seen the results translated into [illegible] statistics.

CCC Celebrates Again

NEXT week-end the Civilian Conservation Corps throughout the nation will celebrate the seventh anniversary of this federal agency, which was formed for the purpose of conserving human and natural resources.

Open house will be [illegible] man Creek [illegible] of Nahma [illegible] afternoon. The public has been invited to visit the camp and enrollees will escort visitors on a tour of inspection of various CCC activities.

The [illegible] New Deal [illegible] Wa[illegible] camps [illegible] CCC [illegible] Democratic party platform. Even though the New Deal [illegible] another [illegible] elections [illegible] that the CCC program would be continued.

The CCC has been [illegible] in removing thousands of young men from the streets and placed them at work in healthful, outdoor surroundings. During their service in the camps, many young men took advantage of the educational courses offered during their leisure time and learned useful trades to equip them for work in private industry. The conservation work of the CCC also has been of tremendous value to the nation, particularly in the Upper Peninsula, where the task of reforesting the cutover lands is of vital importance to the various communities and their people.

A Real Achievement

A WESTERN paper announces that an ore mill in the vicinity of Cripple Creek, Colorado, has operated during the past year on gold ore averaging in value only $1.56 a ton, and still has shown a satisfactory profit.

A few years ago such a showing would have been impossible, but advances in metallurgy are making great strides, and vast deposits of low grade gold, iron, copper and other ores once deemed worthless now give promise to the miner. There is little comfort in this for the small miner, but activities on a huge modern scale are the thing in mining nowadays, not in high values, but in immense volumes of low grade tonnage.

There is potential comfort for the Upper Peninsula in every new metallurgic finding of our college and mining company laboratories. The Houghton School of Mining and Technology has repaid its cost to the State many times over through the better methods materialized in research work, and there is little doubt that it will continue to prove one of the most profitable investments that Michigan ever made.

Lesson from Nebraska

FIRST of all, the objective in the campaign of the Escanaba Potato Boosters association is to get more Delta county farmers growing high quality potatoes. To date, about two hundred have signed up as competitors in the growing contest, and it hoped that more will enter.

When Delta county farmers are growing an appreciable amount of quality potatoes the next job will be to devise means of marketing the product profitably. Probably a cooperative marketing agency, such as those that have been signally successful in other agricultural regions, is the answer.

In the meantime, however, Delta county growers should give attention to the matter of making their potatoes more attractive, if only to win the good will of local housewives. In this connection, a lesson can be learned from Nebraska.

Members of the Nebraska Certified Potato Growers' cooperative sold only about 50 carloads annually in the Chicago market until they hit upon a worthwhile idea last year. The idea was simply to wash their potatoes and grade them in a uniform high quality pack. As a result, 2,000 carloads of Nebraska "spuds" cracked the market this winter.

MAINTAIN THE SAFETY RECORD
(New York Herald Tribune)

The Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington, which exercises supervisory powers over civilian aviation, is reported to favor a further reduction in the rates of passenger fares. As to this nothing definite has yet been decided. The present charges are not out of line with de luxe railroad travel, but the theory is that lower rates would increase traffic and hence raise revenues. What the public has a right to expect, even more than reductions in rates, is that nothing shall be done to impair the efficiency of operation and to make it more difficult for the companies to maintain their high safety record. The country has not forgotten President Roosevelt's interference in the carrying of the mails in 1934, which not only resulted in the death of army flyers but involved large losses for some of the companies and served to demoralize the industry and discourage passenger traffic. It is essential that no such government fumbling ever again be attempted. Fortunately the present relations between the commercial companies and the government authorities are excellent. The high record of safety is, as we have already indicated, due in good part to the close and friendly cooperation between the two groups.

MERITED REPRIMAND
(Baltimore Sun)

Like the late Walter Hines Page, who was our ambassador to England from 1913 until 1918, James H. R. Cromwell, our present minister to Canada, seems to have allowed his sympathies for the country to which he is accredited to outstrip his sense of responsibility to his own government. Page, to quote one of his biographers, construed the World War "as a gigantic assault on democratic civilization by Prussian militarism," and he acted on this theory in all his exchanges with the British government. Mr. Cromwell seems to take a similar view of the present conflict.

But whereas Mr. Page expressed himself privately to Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey, Mr. Cromwell spread his opinions abroad in a public speech. Such an indiscretion merited the reprimand which Secretary Hull has meted out. We cannot have our diplomatic representatives airing their private opinions in a way that may embarrass the conduct of our foreign policy. Mr. Cromwell should be given to understand that so long as he occupies the post at Ottawa he has to conduct himself as a responsible representative of a great neutral power.

WINTER SPORTS
(Milwaukee Journal)

The Wisconsin Conservation Bulletin for March reports Wisconsin's winter sports opportunities. They are many and they presumably will increase. It is [illegible] since this state should make use of its natural [illegible] resources throughout the year, not just in summer.

However, to develop winter sports facilities takes money. If privately done, the process may be a slow one, since private enterprisers must "feel their way."

Desiring to develop a winter resort in an upper Wisconsin forest area, for instance, the private investor goes slowly. He builds a cabin or two, a toboggan slide, perhaps some ski trails. Then he tests their appeal. Gradually, by the process he may develop a considerable resort, attracting many people.

Public endeavors are different. The state or federal government sets aside an appropriation, sinks it into a big winter sports development, promptly presents facilities and quickly attracts the people.

If wisely restricted, this latter process may have much merit. While it includes an expenditure of the public funds, it swiftly puts a new recreational activity into the field, and that activity is likely to spread to private facilities and to yield revenues to private operators.

The one point that needs to be remembered by public officials is that once public facilities are offered for winter sports, summer outings or almost any other activity, the demand upon them is likely to grow.

A small [illegible], soon becoming inadequate, brings public pressure for a larger one. [illegible] so public [illegible] may [illegible] more costly [illegible] trails, slides, and whatnot, at the expense of the taxpayers.

We [illegible] of this development [illegible] out of [illegible] have many winter sports [illegible] private, in W[illegible] that the [illegible] does not [illegible].

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Pan American Union being observed in April calls attention to one of the most forceful and influential organizations that exists for the purpose of harmony, peace, and improved relations among nations. It embodies all the cardinal principles of peace societies, and in a large measure has accomplished more in its fifty years of existence than the League of Nations with finer buildings and a larger staff.

The record of the fifty years in the peaceful settlement of inter-American disputes is one of which all the republics are proud. In thus setting an example to the world and uniting their combined influence for the promotion of peace and good-will, the American republics are performing their highest service to humanity.

Although the Pan American Union as an organization was officially brought into being April 14, 1890, the seed of its beginning was sown in 1826 when Simon Bolivar proposed some type of cooperative organization among the American republics. Bolivar clearly saw the importance of developing a strong bond of unity among the struggling nations of North and South America. From 1826 until the assembling of the First International Conference of American States at Washington in 1889 Bolivar's idea continued to live and enlarge. Establishment of the Pan American Union set up the final machinery for the carrying out of Bolivar's conception of harmonious relations among the nations of the two continents.

The resolution of the First International Conference of American States creating the Pan American Union provided for "the establishment of an American international bureau for the collection, tabulation, and publication, in the English, Spanish, and Portuguese languages, of information as to the productions and commerce, and as to the customs, laws and regulations of their respective countries."

The Union has well accomplished this broad task, and has done even more, for in addition to publishing information about the productions and commerce of the twenty-one American nations, it has fostered a spirit of good will among these nations, and many other nations, that is known the world over. From time to time it has added to the scope of its activities, and established a library that now contains more than 105,000 volumes and pamphlets available for consultation.

The Pan American Union not only issues maps and other facts relating to the republics that support it, but through the Bulletin, its official organ, which is published monthly, it gives results of official and other American conferences, summarizes all important American treaties and agreements, and accounts of legislation and progress of all kinds in the member countries. The publication also contains many descriptive articles, as well as information on the economic, cultural, and scientific development of the various countries. Its files are a storehouse of facts concerning the American republics.

The Pan American Union is not only a representative body through which the several American states clear their problems and promote their business relations, but every visitor to Washington admires the magnificent marble Pan American palace. It is a beautiful and enduring symbol of what Pan Americanism means. The building is the center of the advance of the ever increasing cordial relations among the twenty-one nations; it is a clearing house of good will.

Erected in 1910 through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie and the contributions of the American republics, it was constructed on land donated by the United States Government and houses administrative offices that carry on the work entrusted to the Union by the International Conference of the American States.

20 Years Ago

A Rotary club for the city of Escanaba was organized last night and the newly elected officers of the newly born organization were installed by a delegation of Marquette Rotarians.

Escanaba's Rotary club is organized with the following officers: R. E. McLean, president; H. W. Reade, vice president; Attorney James C. Baker, secretary, and W. R. Smith, treasurer.

The guest of honor of the evening was Harry Craddock of Minneapolis, district governor for the Fifteenth Rotarian district. E. L. Pearce of Marquette presided at the meeting and among the visitors were E. A. McDonald of Marquette; Merlin Wiley, Sault Ste. Marie; John J. O'Hara, Menominee, Bishop Robert L. Harris, Marquette, and John Silvernale, Menominee.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday at the county clerk's office to: George Sanders of Marquette and Mary Swanson of Escanaba; Frank J. Hajek, jr., of Milwaukee and Helen Painter of Gladstone.

Antoine Beauchamp, a prominent farmer of Escanaba township, broke the record for early spring plowing in this section when he broke ground at his farm in Flat Rock yesterday. Mr. Beauchamp has been engaged in farming at Flat Rock for 27 years and yesterday was the first time he was ever able to plow in the month of March. He plowed throughout the day at regulation depth and encountered no frost whatsoever in the ground.

The bridge at the Old Ford River mill location narrowly escaped being carried out yesterday morning when the water in the river rose above the floor of the structure and with giant ice cakes and timber crashing against it, it was feared the bridge would be unable to stand the strain. An ice jam that formed at the mouth of the river, held back by the ice field on Green Bay, backed the water up in the river until the entire mill location was flooded, with the exception of high ground about the store.

Right or Wrong About People

BY DONALD A. LAIRD
Ph. D. Sci. D.

There is a streak of the barbarian in us, so far as colors and clothes go. We are strongly drawn to bright colors and flashy clothes. This might be called a suppressed longing in thousands of persons who do not have the nerve to wear the noisy clothes they secretly like.

The fear that it will make people dislike them deters many from wearing the colorful clothes for which they long. This is not warranted, however, for studies have shown that clothes have scarcely a thing to do with popularity. Clothes are important, of course, to keep in the swim of things; but our popularity depends primarily on us, not on our clothes.

There are two types of persons who should avoid loud or colorful clothes, if they are to make the best all-around impression, Mildred Graves Ryan points out in her book "Your Clothes and Personality":

Fat people or very tall people are made to seem all the more that way if they deck themselves out in flashy togs.

And at the other extreme, conspicuously short people are made even more conspicuously short if they climb inside loud clothes.

Interestingly enough, the urge to wear loud clothes has been found by psychoanalysts to be strongest among those who are sensitive about their shortness — the very thing which is made more prominent to the eyes of others by loudness. Another instance where the cure is as bad as the disease.

For the great majority of us, there is no reason to fear the effect of color and pattern of our clothes on how others take to us. Here is one case where we can safely let ourselves go and do what we have wanted to these many years.

Someone may ask, "But what will others think?" Well, they will probably think, "That is what I have always wanted to wear but lacked the courage!"

The original Americans daubed themselves with bright paints and bedecked their bodies with loud patterns in beads. Today, the cosmetics and textiles are better, but most of us are still original Americans at heart.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—Columnists Dorothy Thompson and Arthur Krock don't know it, but they had one high-placed member of the Administration on their side in the controversy over unemployment figures.

The unexpected ally was Secretary Frances Perkins.

When the two columnists fired their startling barrage that the employable jobless army numbered only two and not ten million, New Deal strategists, fearful of the effect the charge might have on their drive to increase the WPA budget, scurried around to drum up impressive denials. One authority they approached for such a counter blast was Miss Perkins.

But to their astonishment she balked. At first they were mystified by her attitude but, finally, on an inside tip they found the explanation in her annual report last year. In this document is a paragraph that in effect completely corroborates the Thompson-Krock claim.

Note—While Miss Perkins' report escaped general notice, the alert U. S. Chamber of Commerce spotted it. The Chamber called its members' attention to the report in a monthly bulletin.

—FRANK'S GOP PLATFORM—

If you have been following the campaign speeches of the Republican candidates, you probably have been struck by this interesting coincidence:

That on all major issues their views are practically identical; and that all these views are strikingly similar to the ideas expressed in the report of the Glenn Frank Program Committee.

As one Republican veteran on Capitol Hill sagely observed, "The boys apparently are writing their speeches with a Thesaurus in one hand and the Frank report in the other."

This quiet borrowing from the Frank report is particularly evident on the farm issue. The Frank Committee, in effect, approved the AAA but criticized allegedly inefficient and bureaucratic administration. Also it advocated that the emphasis on benefit payments should be on "soil conservation" rather than on the New Deal's "crop control."

The Frank "farm plank" unquestionably scored in the crucial grain belt. It was widely republished and enthusiastically endorsed by many prominent local Republicans. This was not lost on the three leading GOP candidates, Dewey, Taft and Vandenberg.

Since publication of the report they have followed its "farm plank" very closely. In his Omaha speech, Dewey practically echoed the plank. Taft, who last December in Des Moines took a poke at farm subsidies, sang a more Frank-like tune in his second try at the farm issue at Springfield, Ill. And Vandenberg's Senate declamations on the subject also have been along the lines of the Frank report.

—LIBERAL GOSPEL—

This attitude of the candidates is very significant.

The Frank report is a lot more liberal than the views held by certain powerful Eastern GOP leaders, who will have a great deal to say behind the scenes at the Philadelphia convention. That the candidates nevertheless are echoing the doctrines enunciated by the report indicates clearly that they deem this liberalism necessary to win public favor.

It also is a good tip-off that when the GOP platform emerges it will read very much like the Frank report. In his preface, Dr. Frank stated that it was not the intention of his Committee to write a platform. But party insiders will give you odds that that is just what he did.

Note — In the hot Dewey-Vandenberg primary now in progress in Nebraska, Dewey boosters are capitalizing on Vandenberg's vote against the $212,000,000 parity payments fund by declaring that Dewey favors such farm benefits. The young New Yorker has never said this flatly himself, but his Nebraska supporters are claiming it for him.

—POLITICAL CHAFF—

Louisiana insiders predict that after the April 16 referendum on the Huey Long sales tax, which they say is certain to be repealed, Mayor Maestri of New Orleans, the last of the Long moguls still in office, will resign . . . . . Politicos are wondering if there is any connection between the editorial in the current "Fortune" boosting Wendell Willkie, No. 1 utility foe of the New Deal, for President and the fact that Russell Davenport, managing editor of the ritzy magazine, has taken a three months leave of absence to master-mind Willkie's campaign . . . . . New Dealers are urging John P. Devaney, former Chief Justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court, to become the Democratic candidate against Senator Henrik Shipstead, who hasn't decided yet whether to run for re-election under his Farmer-Labor label, or as an Independent or as a Republican. Last year, after serving 16 years in the Senate as a Farmer-Laborite, Shipstead asked for committee assignments as a Republican, and since then has generally voted with them on major issues.

ON WRITING SPRING POETRY

Where's the person, could rhyme cling and wing,
That wouldn't open his heart and sing
Some po-e-tree to the op'nin' of Spring?

Battle the storm and work in the cold,
And you'll be singin', unless you're a scold,
To see our Winter gettin' so old.

Who can resist the trumpetin' flowers,
The glistenin' fields in April showers,
The robin song, and the warm growin' hours?

Who can feel the wind on his cheek
And not hear the call of the windin' creek,
The urge to go fishin'—maybe work next week?

So don't throw a sneer at the Spring poet
For writin' his lines, "To a Violet",
You're feelin' that way yourself, I bet!

Wickman Leads Field

S. R. WICKMAN, a newcomer in Escanaba politics, scored an outstanding personal victory at the municipal election on Monday when he led a field of ten candidates, seeking three vacancies on the city council. Mr. Wickman led the field in every voting precinct of the city, with the exception of the seventh, the home precinct of Carl B. Johnson and Joseph White and from the filing of the first returns, he was never headed by any contestant in the field.

The reelection of "Pat" Gasman and Carl B. Johnson, to fill the remaining two vacancies in the council, constitutes not only a personal victory for these two men, but is an endorsement of their records of service on the council.

To Fred J. Earle, also a newcomer in Escanaba politics, goes the honor of being the runnerup in Monday's election results. The race for third place on the sucessful ticket was a close one between Johnson and Earle and it was not until the final ward reported its vote the victor was finally determined.

Sam Wickman should make an outstanding member of the new council. Born in Escanaba and associated in some capacity with one of Escanaba's important industries during all of the working years of his life, Mr. Wickman knows Escanaba and her needs. An accident forced him to relinquish his position as local manager for the C. Reiss Coal company, about a year and a half ago, so he has ample time to give to his new responsibility. In addition it will provide him with a most interesting and intriguing subject, with which to occupy his mind and in public service he will find a field where his business and personal experience of the past will permit him to render valuable service to his community.

Advertising Pays

ACCORDING to the Empire State Travel association, New York state in the last year reaped a profit of more than $1,200,000, or several hundred per cent, in the form of gasoline taxes paid by out-of-state motorists, while an additional $400,000,000 from tourists was circulated in every avenue of trade on an advertising investment of $200,000.

New York state's experience emphatically supports the arguments of those who opposed the views of Budget Director Gus Hartman when he said that the proposed $50,000 appropriation for national advertising of Michigan's recreational attractions was unnecessary. The budget director reasoned that since people cannot go abroad, they will come to Michigan without any advertising. He overlooked the fact, however, that New York and other states are also making a determined bid for the tourist business.

Before 1935, only six states made any provisions in their budgets for advertising. Now 40 have ear-marked funds available to publicize their wares or attractions throughout the nation. A total of $4,400,000 has been appropriated, and thirteen of the states have appropriated $100,000 each. Florida, which long ago became conscious of its charms as a vacation rendezvous, leads the list with $825,000. It might be mentioned that Michigan allots $100,000 annually to the four tourist associations; the $50,000 appropriation was an additional request for national advertising.

Many of the benefits from advertising are so intangible as to defy measurement. But some of the states which began advertising in recent years already have seen the results burst right out into indisputable statistics.

CCC Celebrates Again

NEXT week-end, the Civilian Conservation Corps throughout the nation will celebrate the seventh anniversary of this federal agency, which was founded for the purpose of conserving human and natural resources.

Open house will be held at Camp Morman Creek, north of Nahma, on Sunday afternoon. The public has been invited to visit the camp, and enrollees will escort visitors on a tour of inspection of various CCC activities.

The Civilian Conservation Corps is one New Deal agency that has gained general approval. While storms of criticism have enveloped other alphabetical agencies, the CCC has received praise in Republican as well as Democratic party platforms. Even though the New Deal should give way to another administration is coming fall elections, it is quite likely that the CCC program would be continued.

The CCC has been fulfilled its purposes in removing thousands of idle youths from the streets and placed them at work in healthful, outdoor surroundings. During their service in the camps, many young men took advantage of the educational courses offered during their leisure time and learned useful trades to equip them for work in private industry. The conservation work of the CCC also has been of tremendous value to the nation, particularly in the Upper Peninsula where the task of reforesting the cutover lands is of vital importance to the various communities and their people.

A Real Achievement

A WESTERN paper announces that an ore mill in the vicinity of Cripple Creek, Colorado, has operated during the past year on gold ore averaging in value only $1.56 a ton, and still has shown a satisfactory profit.

A few years ago such a showing would have been impossible, but advances in metallurgy are making great strides, and vast deposits of low grade gold, Iron, copper and other ores once deemed worthless now give promise to the miner. There is little comfort in this for the small miner, but activities on a huge modern scale are the thing in mining nowadays, — not in high values, but in immense volumes of low grade tonnage.

There is potential comfort for the Upper Peninsula in every new metallurgic finding of our college and mining company laboratories. The Houghton School of Mining and Technology has repaid its cost to the State many times over through the better methods materialized in research work, and there is little doubt that it will continue to prove one of the most profitable investments that Michigan ever made.

Lesson from Nebraska

FIRST of all, the objective in the campaign of the Escanaba Potato Boosters association is to get more Delta county farmers growing high quality potatoes. To date, about two hundred have signed up as competitors in the growing contest, and it hoped that more will enter.

When Delta county farmers are growing an appreciable amout of quality potatoes, the next job will be to devise means of marketing the product profitably. Probably a cooperative marketing agency, such as those that have been signally successful in other agricultural regions, is the answer.

In the meantime, however, Delta county growers should give attention to the matter of making their potatoes more attractive, if only to win the good will of local housewives. In this connection, a lesson can be learned from Nebraska.

Members of the Nebraska Certified Potato Growers' cooperative sold only about 50 carloads annually in the Chicago market until they hit upon a worthwhile idea last year. The idea was simply to wash their potatoes and grade them in a uniform high quality pack. As a result, 2,000 carloads of Nebraska "spuds" cracked the market this winter.

MAINTAIN THE SAFETY RECORD
(New York Herald Tribune)

The Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington, which exervises supervisory powers over civilian aviation, is reported to favor a further reduction in the rates of passenger fares. As to this nothing definite has yet been decided. The present charges are not out of line with de luxe railroad travel; but the theory is that lower rates would increase traffic and hence raise revenues. What the public has a right to expect, even more than reductions in fares, is that nothing shall be done to impair the efficiency of operation and to make it more difficult for the companies to maintain their high safety record. The country has not forgotten President Roosevelt's interference in the carrying of the mails in 1934, which not only resulted in the death of army flyers but involved large losses for some of the companies and served to demoralize the industry and discourage passenger traffic. It is essential that no such government bungling ever again be attempted. Fortunately the present relations between the commercial companies and the government authorities are excellent. The high record of safety is, as we have already indicated, due in good part to the close and friendly co-operation between the two groups.

MERITED REPRIMAND
(Baltimore Sun)

Like the late Walter Hines Page, who was our ambassador to England from 1913 until 1918, James H. R. Cromwell, our present minister to Canada, seems to have allowed his sympathies for the country to which he is accredited to outstrip his sense of responsibility to his own government. Page, to quote one of his biographers, construed the World War "as a gigantic assaut on democratic civilization by Prussian militarism," and he acted on this theory in all his exchanges with the British government. Mr. Cromwell seems to take a similar view of the present conflict.

But, whereas Mr. Page expressed himself privately to Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey, Mr. Cromwell spread his opinions abroad in a public speech. Such an indiscretion merited the reprimand which Secretary Hull has meted out. We cannot have our diplomatic representatives airing irresponsible private opinions in a way that may embarrass the conduct of our foreign policy. Mr. Cromwell should be given to understand that so long as he occupies the post at Ottawa he has to conduct himself as a responsible representative of a great neutral power.

WINTER SPORTS
(Milwaukee Journal)

The Wisconsin Conservation Bulletin for March depicts Wisconsin's winter sports opportunities. They are many and they presumably will increase. They ought to, since this state should make use of its unusual natural resources throughout the year, not just in summer.

However, to develop winter sports facilities takes money. If privately done, the process may be a slow one, since private enterprisers must "feel their way."

Desiring to develop a winter resort in an upper Wisconsin forest area, for instance, the private investor goes slowly. He builds a cabin or two, a toboggan slide perhaps, some ski trails. Then he tests their appeal. Gradually, by this process, he may develop a considerable resort, attracting many people.

Public endeavors are different. The state or federal government sets aside an appropriation, sinks it into a big winter sports development promptly presents facilities and quickly attracts the people.

If wisely restricted, this latter process may have much merit. While it includes an expenditure of the public funds, it swiftly puts a new recreational activity into the field; and that activity is likely to spread to private facilities and to yield revenues to private operators.

The one point that needs to be remembered by public officials is that, once public facilities are offered — for winter sports, summer outings or almost any other activity — the demand upon them is likely to grow.

A small shelter house, soon becoming inadequate, brings public pressure for a larger one. Simple conveniences invite demands for more elaborate ones. So public officials, under constant pressure, may build ever bigger, better and more costly structures, roads, trails, slides, and what-not, all at the expense of the taxpayers.

We make no criticism of this development if it is not permitted to get out of hand. We should have many winter sports facilities, some public, more private, in Wisconsin. But we should see that the cost upon the public treasuries does not run too high.

You'll have to wait until Congress is finished arguing before you will know whether it's permissable to tell the census man to mind his own business.

Earmarking of convention delegates has officially begun. It's going to be tough from now on for citizens to keep their ears pinned to the ground while they're trying to keep their eyes on Europe.

"The mimosa, one of the nation's ornamental trees, has fallen victim to a mysterious disease believed to have reached this country from Russia." Ah, there, Dies Committee!

Washington, D. C.—The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Pan American Union being observed in April calls attention to one of the most forceful and influential organizations that exists for the purpose of harmony, peace, and improved relations among nations. It embodies all the cardinal principles of peace societies, and in a large measure has accomplished more in its fifty years of existence than the League of Nations with finer buildings and a larger staff.

The record of the fifty years in the peaceful settlement of inter-American disputes is one of which all the republics are proud. In thus setting an example to the world and using their combined influence for the promotion of peace and good-will, the American republics are performing their highest service to humanity.

Although the Pan American Union as an organization was officially brought into being April 14, 1890, the seed of its beginning was sown in 1826 when Simon Bolivar proposed some type of cooperative organization among the American republics. Bolivar clearly saw the importance of developing a strong bond of unity among the struggling nations of North and South America. From 1826 until the assembling of the First International Conference of American States at Washington in 1889 Bolivar's idea continued to live and enlarge. Establishing of the Pan American Union set up the final machinery for the carrying out of Bolivar's conception of harmonious relations among the nations of the two continents.

The resolution of the First International Conference of American States creating the Pan American Union provided for "the establishment of an American international bureau for the collection, tabulation, and publication, in the English, Spanish, and Portuguese languages, of information as to the productions and commerce, and as to the customs, laws and regulations of their respective countries."

The Union has well accomplished this broad task, and has done even more, for in addition to publishing information about the productions and commerce of the twenty-one American nations, it has fostered a spirit of good-will among these nations, and many other nations, that is known the world over. From time to time it has added to the scope of its activities, and established a library that now contains more than 105,000 volumes and pamphlets available for consultation.

The Pan American Union not only issues maps and other facts relating to the republics that support it, but through the Bulletins, its official organ, which is published monthly, it gives results of official and other American conferences, summarizes all important American treaties and agreements, and accounts of legislation and progress of all kinds in the member countries. The publication also contains many descriptive articles, as well as information on the economic, cultural, and scientific development of the various countries. Its files are a storehouse of facts concerning the American republics.

The Pan American Union is not only a representative body through which the several American states clear their problems and promote their business relations, but every visitor to Washington admires the magnificent marble Pan American palace. It is a beautiful and enduring symbol of what Pan Americanism means. The building is the center of the advance of the ever-increasing cordial relations among the twenty-one nations; it is a clearing-house of good-will.

Erected in 1910 through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie and the contributions of the American republics, it was constructed on land donated by the United States Government and houses administrative offices that carry on the work entrusted to the Union by the International Conference of the American States.

Q. Please give some information about the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. E. H. L.

A. The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was a document containing five resolutions and embodied a declaration of independence from England, adopted, it is claimed, at a meeting on May 20, 1775, of the citizens of Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. The declaration was first printed in the Raleigh Register, April 30, 1819, from a draft written from memory by John M. Alexander in 1800. Alexander was recording clerk of the meeting. No contemporary draft has ever been discovered and the question of the authenticity of the document has given rise to controversial literature.

Q. Is house insulation a modern development? R. W. H.

A. The oldest modern house insulation is mineral wool, which was first made in Wales, England, in 1840. It was brought over to this country in 1867 when it was, even then, used to protect houses against winter cold and summer heat. One of the oldest existing installations of such insulation is the home of Noah Hockman in Salem, Virginia, which was insulated in 1882. The mineral wool used there is still in perfect condition.

Q. Please give the origin of the shrine of Sainte Anne de Beaupre in Quebec. L. T.

A. According to legend, in the early days of French settlement a boatload of Breton sailors found themselves in danger on the Saint Lawrence. As the boat was tossed about by the waves, the frightened men prayed fervently to Saint Anne, patron saint of sailors. They vowed to erect a chapel in her honor, if saved. A Rotary club for the city of Escanaba was organized last night and the newly elected officers of the newly born organization were installed by a delegation of Marquette Rotarians.

Escanaba's Rotary club is organized with the following officers: R. E. McLean, president; H. W. Reade, vice president; Attorney James C. Baker, secretary, and W. R. Smith, treasurer.

The guest of honor of the evening was Harry Craddock of Minneapolis, district governor for the Fifteenth Rotarian district. E. L. Pearce of Marquette presided at the meeting and among the visitors were E. A. McDonald of Marquette; Merlin Wiley, Sault Ste. Marie; John J. O'Hara, Menominee, Bishop Robert L. Harris, Marquette, and John Silvernale, Menominee.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday at the county clerk's office to: George Sanders of Marquette and Mary Swanson of Escanaba; Frank J. Hajek, jr., of Milwaukee and Helen Painter of Gladstone.

Antoine Beauchamp, a prominent farmer of Escanaba township, broke the record for early spring plowing in this section when he broke ground at his farm in Flat Rock yesterday. Mr. Beauchamp has been engaged in farming at Flat Rock for 27 years and yesterday was the first time he was ever able to plow in the month of March. He plowed throughout the day at regulation depth and encountered no frost whatsoever in the ground.

The bridge at the Old Ford River mill location narrowly escaped being carried out yesterday morning when the water in the river rose above the floor of the structure and with giant ice cakes and timber crashing against it, it was feared the bridge would be unable to stand the strain. An ice jam that formed at the mouth of the river, held back by the ice field on Green Bay, backed the water up in the river until the entire mill location was flooded, with the exception of high ground about the store.

Right or Wrong About People

BY DONALD A. LAIRD
Ph. D., Sci. D.

There is a streak of the barbarian in us, so far as colors and clothes go. We are strongly drawn to bright colors and flashy clothes. This might be called a suppressed longing in thousands of persons who do not have the nerve to wear the noisy clothes they secretly like.

The fear that it will make people dislike them deters many from wearing the colorful clothes for which they long. This is not warranted, however, for studies have shown that clothes have scarcely a thing to do with popularity. Clothes are important, of course, to keep in the swim of things; but our popularity depends primarily on us, not on our clothes.

There are two types of persons who should avoid loud or colorful clothes, if they are to make the best all-around impression, Mildred Graves Ryan points out in her book "Your Clothes and Personality":

Fat people or very tall people are made to seem all the more that way if they deck themselves out in flashy togs.

And at the other extreme, conspicuously short people are made even more conspicuously short if they climb inside loud clothes.

Interestingly enough, the urge to wear loud clothes has been found by psychoanalysts to be strongest among those who are sensitive about their shortness—the very thing which is made more prominent to the eyes of others by loudness. Another instance where the cure is as bad as the disease.

For the great majority of us, there is no reason to fear the effect of color and pattern of our clothes on how others take to us. Here is one case where we can safely let ourselves go and do what we have wanted to these many years.

Someone may ask, "But what will others think?" Well, they will probably think, "That is what I have always wanted to wear but lacked the courage!"

The original Americans daubed themselves with bright paints and bedecked their bodies with loud patterns in beads. Today, the cosmetics and textiles are better, but most of us are still original Americans at heart.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—Columnists Dorothy Thompson and Arthur Krock don't know it, but they had one high-placed member of the Administration on their side in the controversy over unemployment figures.

The unexpected ally was Secretary Frances Perkins.

When the two columnists fired their startling barrage that the employable jobless army numbered only two and not ten million, New Deal strategists, fearful of the effect the charge might have on their drive to increase the WPA budget, scurried around to drum up impressive denials. One authority they approached for such a counter blast was Miss Perkins.

But to their astonishment she balked. At first they were mystified by her attitude but, finally, on an inside tip they found the explanation in her annual report last year. In this document is a paragraph that in effect completely corroborates the Thompson-Krock claim.

Note—While Miss Perkins' report escaped general notice, the alert U. S. Chamber of Commerce spotted it. The Chamber called its members' attention to the report in a monthly bulletin.

—FRANK'S GOP PLATFORM—

If you have been following the campaign speeches of the Republican candidates, you probably have been struck by this interesting coincidence:

That on all major issues their views are practically identical; and that all these views are strikingly similar to the ideas expressed in the report of the Glenn Frank Program Committee.

As one Republican veteran on Capitol Hill sagely observed, "The boys apparently are writing their speeches with a Thesaurus in one hand and the Frank report in the other."

This quiet borrowing from the Frank report is particularly evident on the farm issue. The Frank Committee, in effect, approved the AAA but criticized allegedly inefficient and bureaucratic administration. Also it advocated that the emphasis on benefit payments should be on "soil conservation" rather than on the New Deal's "crop control."

The Frank "farm plank" unquestionably scored in the crucial grain belt. It was widely republished and enthusiastically endorsed by many prominent local Republicans. This was not lost on the three leading GOP candidates, Dewey, Taft and Vandenberg.

Since publication of the report they have followed its "farm plank" very closely. In his Omaha speech, Dewey practically echoed the plank. Taft, who last December in Des Moines took a poke at farm subsidies, sang a more Frank-like tune in his second try at the farm issue at Springfield, Ill. And Vandenberg's Senate declamations on the subject also have been along the lines of the Frank report.

—LIBERAL GOSPEL—

This attitude of the candidates is very significant.

The Frank report is a lot more liberal than the views held by certain powerful Eastern GOP leaders, who will have a great deal to say behind the scenes at the Philadelphia convention. That the candidates nevertheless are echoing the doctrines enunciated by the report indicates clearly that they deem this liberalism necessary to win public favor.

It also is a good tip-off that when the GOP platform emerges it will read very much like the Frank report. In his preface, Dr. Frank stated that it was not the intention of his Committee to write a platform. But party insiders will give you odds that that is just what he did.

Note — In the hot Dewey-Vandenberg primary now in progress in Nebraska, Dewey boosters are capitalizing on Vandenberg's vote against the $212,000,000 parity payments fund by declaring that Dewey favors such farm benefits. The young New Yorker has never said this flatly himself, but his Nebraska supporters are claiming it for him.

—POLITICAL CHAFF—

Louisiana insiders predict that after the April 16 referendum on the Huey Long sales tax, which they say is certain to be repealed, Mayor Maestri of New Orleans, the last of the Long moguls still in office, will resign . . . . . Politicos are wondering if there is any connection between the editorial in the current "Fortune" boosting Wendell Willkie, No. 1 utility foe of the New Deal, for President and the fact that Russell Davenport, managing editor of the ritzy magazine, has taken a three months leave of absence to master-mind Willkie's campaign . . . . . New Dealers are urging John P. Devaney, former Chief Justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court, to become the Democratic candidate against Senator Henrik Shipstead, who hasn't decided yet whether to run for re-election under his Farmer-Labor label, or as an Independent or as a Republican. Last year, after serving 16 years in the Senate as a Farmer-Laborite, Shipstead asked for committee assignments as a Republican, and since then has generally voted with them on major issues.

Schaffer Pioneer Is 85 Years Old

Eugene Daigneault, one of the oldest residents of Delta county, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary on Monday, March 25. He has been a resident of the county for the past sixty years.

Mr. Daigneault was born March 25, 1855 in New Brunswick. When he was one year old the family moved to lower Canada, settling in Rouville county. He is the youngest of a family numbering sixteen children, twelve girls and four boys. All his brothers and sisters are dead, each having lived over ninety years, excepting a sister, Sophie who died of typhoid fever at the age of thirty. Edmond, his eldest brother died at the age of ninety-nine and one-half years.

At the age of two, Eugene's parents died and he was placed in the orphanage of L'Ange Guardian de Rouville. He was reared by a priest called Pierre Louis Pariet, received his education at the convent and attended college two years. Mr. Daigneault still has his school books and prizes them.

He came to the United States at the age of sixteen, first settling in Westfield, Mass. He worked there for one and a half years for the American Whip Shop Co., then worked in Holyoke and West Springfield in cotton factories. He also spent some time in New Hampshire.

At the age of twenty-two he came to Michigan and for a few years he worked in lumber mills and kilns in the territory near Houghton. Being a strong and capable man, he was a champion at emptying kilns which was considered very hard work in those days.

After having attained the age of twenty-five he thought of the future so he purchased 3 forties of woodland in Bark River township. He spent six years clearing land to start farming and built a home. At that time there were no roads, excepting for a supply trail—as it was called—from Ford River.

He married Adelagid Beausoleil, a widow from New York State and had two children, one died at birth and Emanuel who is living on the farm.

Mr. Daigneault retired from active work about twenty years ago and has lived alone for the past six years, his wife having died in the winter of 1934. He is in fair health and finds pleasure in visiting his old friends, reading, and walking to his old farm home, which is about half a mile from his residence.

Mrs. Lawrence Mayrend of Schaffer is an adopted daughter. Another adopted daughter lives in Marquette.

He has ten grandchildren and one great-Grandchild.

Schaffer Pioneer Is 85 Years Old

Eugene Daigneault, one of the oldest residents of Delta county, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary on Monday, March 25. He has been a resident of the county for the past sixty years.

Mr. Daigneault was born March 25, 1855 in New Brunswick. When he was one year old the family moved to lower Canada, settling in Rouville county. ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, } ss.
County of Delta }

The Circuit Court for the County of Delta in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Escanaba, in the County of Delta, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of April A. D. 1940, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Delta, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Frank A. Bell, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Delta County this 17th day of February A. D. 1940.

FRANK A. BELL,
Circuit Judge.

Countersigned,
P. A. LeClaire, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF DELTA IN CHANCERY.

In the Matter of the Petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Delta, in Chancery:

Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) fifty cents for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 9, 1940.

VERNON J. BROWN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF DELTA IN CHANCERY.

In the Matter of the Petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Delta, in Chancery:

Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) fifty cents for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 9, 1940.

VERNON J. BROWN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.

B and PW Club Host to Smelt Fest Visitors

The Business and Professional Women's club celebrated the eleventh anniversary of the foundation of the club at a meeting held Monday night at the Ludington hotel.

Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, who was the first president of the club, gave a very interesting talk, reviewing the past accomplishments of the organization. Mrs. Reynolds stressed the fine cooperation among club members which has been responsible for the success of the club. She also recalled several joint meetings with men's clubs, work done by the club, and other highlights of the club's history. Following Mrs. Reynold's talk, a birthday cake with eleven candles was cut by Julia Parsons, club president, and cards were played. Plans were completed to hold a card party April 15.

The club has been asked to act as hostess to out-of-town women guests during the Smelt Jamboree. The clubrooms in the Jamboree headquarters will be decorated for the occasion. Refreshments will be served by members of the club. A committee to take charge of preparations for the women guests was appointed with Mrs. Zania Rivers as chairman and Lillian Reynolds, Alice Kvam, Marie Peters, Phoebe Benson, Hazel Wickert, Esther Palmer and Marie Bezold as members.

Another new feature of the 1940 Jamboree which the B. & P. W. club will provide is a guide service for women visitors, showing them around at the various Jamboree activities and assisting them in the actual dipping of smelt. Members of the girl guides are Adelaid DeMars, Eileen Richards, Naomi Vinette, Mary Jane Goodman, Kate Villeneuve and Blanche Richards.

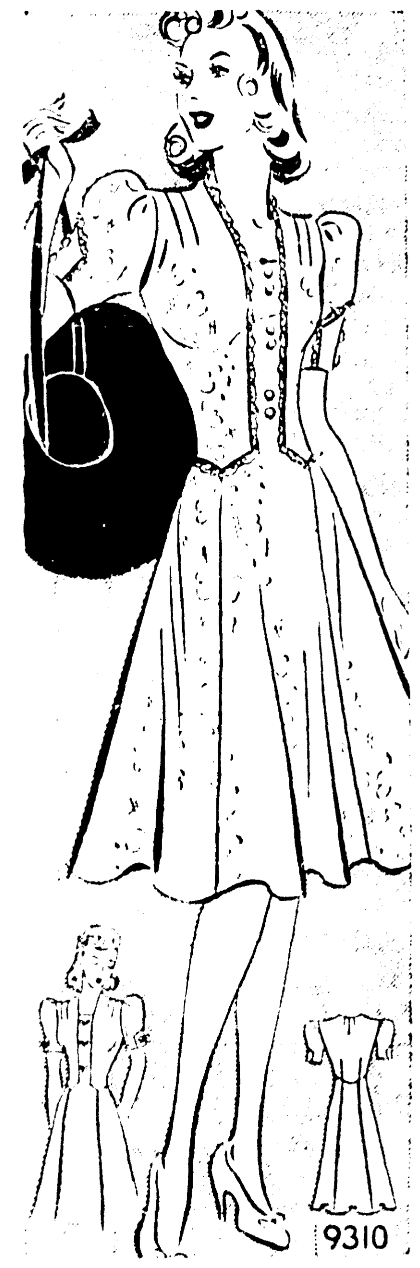
Bodice Panels Feature Smart Basque Style

BY MARIAN MARTIN



PATTERN 9310

Here's a piquant new version of an old favorite—the basque style. Marian Martin has designed Pattern 9310 in beautifully molding lines that finish in a becoming flare. The popular longer-torso look is given by side bodice sections that form points below the waistline. Even in back the waist seam dips to a curve. The center bodice panel, in-one with the front skirt panel, makes this pattern an easy task for your shears. Isn't the neckline engagingly shaped? For a dress-up style, use lace edging and either buttons or gay ribbon bows. You might try the skirt, bodice panel and attractive sleeve tabs in bright contrast.

Pattern 9310 may be ordered only in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 35 inch fabric and 3½ yards lace edging. Price 15 cents.

HERE'S A CLEVER IDEA! Women who haven't "PERFECT FIGURES" (and yet many of us haven't) can be sure of having their smart MARIAN MARTIN frocks fit perfectly! The secret? Just order our simple basic pattern in your size, adjust it to YOUR OWN figure measurements, cut it out in muslin—and you have a permanent guide to use when making all your frocks! Send for Pattern 9306 today! Designed for sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 50. Size 16 requires 3 3-8 yards 36 inch fabric. Price 15c.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, April 2 (AP)—Aviations, particularly air transports, held the principal buying spotlight in today's stock market while many leaders struggled unsuccessfully to get out in front.

Steels, motors and specialties did fairly well, although the majority was content to tack on fractional advances. Favorites, at the best, got up 1 to 3 points. Extreme gains were shared in most cases at the close.

Air line issues left the rest of the list behind as discussion of sharply expanding traffic for the carriers revived thoughts of big earnings and dividends. Several plane manufacturing stocks also exhibited quiet strength in response to talk of large foreign orders being placed soon for fighting craft.

Steels came back after a listless forenoon performance when reports were heard of broadening purchasing of structural steels and other products.

Touching new highs for 1940 or longer were American Airlines, United Air Lines, Pan-American Airways, Transcontinental & Western Air, Copperweld Steel, Dresser Mfg., Loft, Radio Corp., Dow Chemical, White Rock and Bayuk Cigar.

Retaining advances up to a point or so were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Loew's, International Paper, Greyhound and Texas Corp.

On the offside were American Telephone, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Goodyear and Phelps Dodge. Altogether, 265 individual stocks were on the losing end, 328 were up and 211 unchanged.

Allied threats of stiffening the blockade against Germany aroused fears of further unsettlement in international trade and served to dim share-buying sentiment to some extent. Also many in Wall Street kept decks clear pending more light on general business and the results of today's Wisconsin primaries, which, some thought, might give an idea which way the coming campaign winds would blow. A cut of 1/8 of a cent a pound in smelter copper prices was seen as a mildly bearish factor.

Among curb gainers of as much as a point or so were Aluminum of America, Grumman Aircraft, American Gas, Phoenix Securities and Electric Bond & Share. Transactions amounted here to around 179,000 shares against 240,000 yesterday.

New York, April 2 (AP)—Without fanfare and on a small volume of trading, U. S. government bonds continued today to narrow the gap separating them from the record high levels established last June.

Traders reported the new advances in treasuries ranging to 11/32 of a point resulted from further quiet buying by institutional and individual investors in the face of very limited offerings.

Corporate bonds also added some new gains on balance, although the main list was mixed. The firmer stock market and rising hopes for a spring upturn in general business motivated a good deal of the selective demand, brokers reported.

Gains ran from fractions to around 3 points in New England Railroad 4s of '45 at 41, Wisconsin Central 4s at 24 5-8, Brooklyn City Railroad 4s (certificates) at 79½, Illinois Central 4¾s at 44, Nickel Plate 4½s at 55 5-8, American & Foreign Power 5s at 66¾, Porto Rican American Tobacco stamped 6s at 75¼, and Union Pacific 3½s of '71 at 97½. A little lower were Postal Telegraph 5s, Portland General Electric 4½s and Goodrich 4¼s.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington—That 102-pronged indictment voted in Cleveland against plumbing trade leaders was not only the biggest indictment yet voted in the Justice Department's building costs inquiry; in the eyes of Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold it was also the most important.

That's not because Arnold figures the plumbing business is any worse than other parts of the building industry, but because in this case, for the first time, a federal grand jury hit a situation precisely the way Arnold has maintained it ought to be hit—on a national basis, all in one bump.

All of the other indictments in this campaign have dealt with local or regional situations. This one covered the country as a whole—or, at any rate, the greater part of it. It can stand as a model of the anti-trust division's idea of the way to enforce the anti-trust law, in that it takes one specific product and covers every step in its progress from factory production line to the home of the ultimate consumer.

MANY COMPLAINTS WERE RECEIVED

Action of this kind was in the cards even before the building costs campaign got started.

The department had been getting complaints about the plumbing business for years. Ed Hodges, Arnold's assistant who handled the case, had made preliminary studies, off and on, for many months. As soon as the building costs inquiry was decided on, it was figured plumbing would be a key part.

When Hodges went to Cleveland last October, he had a pretty good idea of the sort of evidence he was going to get and where he was going to find it. It was printed material and typescript, mostly; once the grand jury convened, in November, the job was largely one of subpoenaing and analyzing documents.

NO SHORT CUTS FOR CONSUMER, CHARGE

In substance, the department charges distribution of plumbing fixtures was tightly organized from top to bottom, not for purposes of price-fixing, but with the effect of making price structure more rigid.

Manufacturers and jobbers, it alleges, had mutual agreements; jobbers, in turn, had agreements with master plumbers—the contractors who hire the journeymen who actually install the fixtures in a house. And master plumbers are accused of having similar agreements with the journeymen's union.

Net result, according to the department, was no short-cuts for the consumer. So-called "DTU" shipping—direct-to-you service from factory to consumer—declined until, by departmental estimate, it amounted to less than a fifth of the entire business. Just incidentally, one of the department's important studies of the situation consisted of an examination of the files of one of the big mail-order houses.

In general, Hodges says, his men figured the consumer had to pay from 17 to 25 per cent more for plumbing fixtures than he would under a free and open market.

HODGES KEPT BUSY WITH TWO PROBES

Hodges had a busy time of it throughout the investigation. Not only was he in charge of the plumbing investigation; he also had charge of the investigation into the building industry in Cleveland. The Cleveland situation was one of the "hottest" in the country; for both jobs, Hodges had eight assistants.

- SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

VAL DOUGLAS — girl sports Writer, shipped on a freighter to find excitement.

EDDIE CAVALIER — a prize fighter headed for the title, has a score to settle with Val.

DUFFY KELSO — Cavalier's manager.

YESTERDAY: Val urges Hansen to let her handle the shanghai victims. To turn back will bring investigation by port authorities, more delay. She refuses to turn back, tell Cavalier he will train aboard ship for his fight. "What a story!" she promises. "What a story!"

CHAPTER V

Captain Hansen's jaw sagged a full inch. "Val," he said softly, "how in thunder is that box-fighter goin' to train on board the 'Belle'?"

Duffy Kelso looked sick. Eddie Cavalier looked at her with eyes that said he longed to get his hands around her throat.

"Miss Douglas." It was Pop Grimes, pleading with her. "Honest, lady, this is as funny as a crutch. Your admiral there, is right. Even if you don't put around and take us back to Frisco how can Eddie get in shape here?"

She was quite cool and informative in her answer. "Simple stuff, gents. In the first place I know Cavalier is just about in shape already. He had a strenuous indoor season. Three fights, if I remmber correctly. He doesn't need much training for this one. I know he happens to be all through with his heavy work. Just last week, you, Pop Grimes, gave out a story to the effect that Eddie looked over-trained . . . that you weren't going to have him do much more than road work, some light work on the bags and a little sparring. Right?"

Pop Grimes licked his lips. "Right," he whispered, "But . . ."

"But nothing," she flashed. "It so happens that Mike Kelly, who you probably remember as pretty fair heavyweight a few years back, is a seaman aboard this ship. Fortunately for us he has a couple sets of gloves and a light bag which he and some of the boys use in their spare time. Mike'll be as good a sparring partner as you'd want. And Cavalier can do all the road work he wants to around the deck."

Duffy Kelso just sat there and groaned. She looked at him and laughed.

"Before I get through, Duffy, you're going to thank me."

"Shoot you, you mean."

"Go ahead," Cavalier said grimly. "This is the most fantastic thing I've come across since Jules Verne."

"We can pitch a ring on the after deck."

Pop Grimes clapped a hand to his cheek and groaned again. "But his timing—his timing. It'll be ruined. This tub probably throw him so far off balance he'll fall flat on his face."

"Wrong again. This vessel is the smoothest floating freighter on the Pacific. And a guy who punches as sharp as Cavalier doesn't have to worry about losing his timing in a few days."

Eddie Cavalier presented her with a mock bow. "Such flattery must come from the heart," he murmured. "To think you might have a good word to say about me."

"Make the most of it," she retorted. "It might be the last one."

Duffy Kelso shook his head mournfully. "Eddie, it looks like this dame is going through with it. Maybe we oughta wire Sam Golden and tell him to cancel."

Then turning once again to Val. "Look, lady. Sam Golden is one promoter we want to do right by. He had to work on Mike Jacobs plenty hard to get this fight in Frisco. We owe Sam a lot. He gave us our start three years ago. What'll we tell him?"

"That's exactly why you can't cancel, Duffy. You see, I know what ground I'm treading on. You can't let Golden down now. And you also know darn well that if you don't get a crack at the champ now he'll stall you off for another year."

Duffy Kelso spread his hands eloquentl. "This dame, Pop . . . she knows all the angles.

"Right again, Kelso." And then it was Val Douglas who was pleading.

"Duffy, it'll be terrific. Can't you see it? All you've got to do is wire Sam Golden that everything is okay. That this was a a surprise move on your part . . . Didn't want to tell anyone, not even him. You can explain that you wanted to get Eddie away from the usual hurly-burly of the training grind . . . That Eddie needed the rest as much as the private training quarters.

"Duffy, it's great publicity. Terrific. Duffy. It'll pack that ball park so that an undernourished gnat won't be able to get in. It's the natural of the century, Kelso, and if you can't see it you're not as bright as I think you are."

Pop Grimes was bug-eyed. Eddie Cavalier stared at her wonderingly. Steve Hansen was awed.

And over Duffy Kelson's face stole a far-away look of understanding.

"I wisht it wasn't you," he said. I wisht it wasn't you because I think maybe you got something."

Val leaned against a lifeboat, letting a soft spring wind blow through her hair when she heard footsteps on the deck. She turned around quickly. It was Eddie Cavalier.

"Oh . . . it's you."

"Yeah . . . me. Aren't you afraid I'll throw you overboard?" He looked up at the dark, overcast sky. "Good night for something like that and no one's around."

"You're positively gruesome. It's a wonder they never tagged you Killer Cavalier."

"Of course you know there wouldn't be a jury in the world that would convict me."

She laughed mockingly. "Of course not." And then changing the subject. "How goes it with friends Kelso and Grimes? Are they settled for the night? They're such sweet people."

"Last I saw of them," he replied, not without a trace of humor, "they were trying to figure out how a human being goes about sleeping in these iron double-deck bunks."

"You're practically on a luxury liner. What would you do if we had hammocks?"

For the first time that night he smiled, and she figured it must have hurt him terribly for the effort.

"You weren't serious about making us work?" he asked.

"Quite," she said icily. "That was the purpose of the thing in the first place, you know."

"And if we refuse . . . ?"

"You simply don't eat," she said blandly.

"I never was one to shirk a little labor," he said quietly, "but don't you think you ought to make a little concession in my case. I've still got a lot at stake, you know."

"I'll have to think about that," she said. "We'll see if Captain Hansen can spare you entirely, or at least part of the time."

BY FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, April 2 (AP)—Aviations, particularly air transports, held the principal buying spotlight in today's stock market while many leaders struggled unsuccessfully to get out in front.

Steels, motors and specialties did fairly well, although the majority was content to tack on fractional advances. Favorites, at the best, got up 1 to 3 points. Extreme gains were shared in most cases at the close.

Air line issues left the rest of the list behind as discussion of sharply expanding traffic for the carriers revived thoughts of big earnings and dividends. Several plane manufacturing stocks also exhibited quiet strength in response to talk of large foreign orders being placed soon for fighting craft.

Steels came back after a listless forenoon performance when reports were heard of broadening purchasing of structural steels and other products.

Touching new highs for 1940 or longer were American Airlines, United Air Lines, Pan-American Airways, Transcontinental & Western Air, Copperweld Steel, Dresser Mfg., Loft, Radio Corp., Dow Chemical, White Rock and Bayuk Cigar.

Retaining advances up to a point or so were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Loew's, International Paper, Greyhound and Texas Corp.

On the offside were American Telephone, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Goodyear and Phelps Dodge. Altogether, 265 individual stocks were on the losing end, 328 were up and 211 unchanged.

Allied threats of stiffening the blockade against Germany aroused fears of further unsettlement in international trade and served to di mshare-buying sentiment to some extent. Also many in Wall Street kept decks clear pending more light on general business and the results of today's Wisconsin primaries, which, some thought, might give an idea which way the coming campaign winds would blow. A cut of 1-8 of a cent a pound in smelter copper prices was seen as a mildly bearish factor.

Among curb gainers of as much as a point or so were Aluminum of America, Grumman Aircraft, American Gas, Phoenix Securities and Electric Bond & Share. Transactions amounted here to around 179,000 shares against 240,000 yesterday.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, April 2 (AP)—Grain dealers who followed usual marketing practices today sold wheat futures equivalent to their purchases of actual grain, thus depressing prices here and nipping in the bud an attempt to extend the recent rally.

This hedging, by which grain interests protect themselves against reduced prices during their ownership of the commodity, reflected abnormally heavy supplies now coming to market as a result of liquidation of grain which has been stored for months under government loans. It is very unusual that the futures pit is forced to absorb selling of this nature at this time of year.

The hedging more than offset early purchasing based on unfavorable weather and crop reports and after prices had advanced 5-8 cent the market dipped a full cent fro mthe early highs and closed 3-8 to 5-8 lower than yesterday, with May $1.04½ to $1.04 3-8 and July $1.03 3-8 to $1.03¼. Corn was 1-8 off to 1-8 up, May 56 3-4, July 57 3-4; oats 3-8 to ½ lower; rye 3-4 to 1 1-8 down and lard 2 to 8 higher.

Tending to strengthen wheat at times was the fact that local receipts were only 2 cars and shippers sold 75,000 bushels. However, the 12 principal terminals received 1,007,000 bushels, about 30,000 more than a week ago and almost double receipts a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth had 533 cars compared with 245 a year ago. Much of this wheat was loan grain being redeemed and sold at a net paper profit ranging up to 10 cents or more after all charges, above original loan rates based on 80 cents for deliverable grades here. Loans expire at the end of this month.

New York, April 2 (AP)—Without fanfare and on a small volume of trading, U. S. government bonds continued today to narrow the gap separating them from the record high levels established last June.

Traders reported the new advances in treasuries ranging to 11-32 of a point resulted from further quiet buying by institutional and individual investors in the face of very limited offerings.

Corporate bonds also added some new gains on balance, although the main list was mixed. The firmer stock market and rising hopes for a spring upturn in general business motivated a good deal of the selective demand, brokers reported.

Gains ran from fractions to around 3 points in New England Railroad 4s of '45 at 41, Wisconsin Central 4s at 24 5-8, Brooklyn City Railroad 4s (certificates) at 79½, Illinois Central 4¾s at 44, Nickel Plate 4½s at 55 5-8, American & Foreign Power 5s at 66¾, Porto Rican American Tobacco stamped 6s at 75¼, and Union Pacific 3½s of '71 at 97½. A little lower were Postal Telegraph 5s, Portland General Electric 4½s and Goodrich 4¼s.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington—That 102-pronged indictment voted in Cleveland against plumbing trade leaders was not only the biggest indictment yet voted in the Justice Department's building costs inquiry; in the eyes of Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold it was also the most important.

That's not because Arnold figures the plumbing business is any worse than other parts of the building industry, but because in this case, for the first time, a federal grand jury hit a situation precisely the way Arnold has maintained it ought to be hit—on a national basis, all in one bump.

All of the other indictments in this campaign have dealt with local or regional situations. This one covered the country as a whole—or, at any rate, the greater part of it. It can stand as a model of the anti-trust division's idea of the way to enforce the anti-trust law, in that it takes one specific product and covers every step in its progress from factory production line to the home of the ultimate consumer.

MANY COMPLAINTS WERE RECEIVED

Action of this kind was in the cards even before the building costs campaign got started.

The department had been getting complaints about the plumbing business for years. Ed Hodges, Arnold's assistant who handled the case, had made preliminary studies, off and on, for many months. As soon as the building costs inquiry was decided on, it was figured plumbing would be a key part.

When Hodges went to Cleveland last October, he had a pretty good idea of the sort of evidence he was going to get and where he was going to find it. It was printed material and typescript, mostly; once the grand jury convened, in November, the job was largely one of subpoenaing and analyzing documents.

NO SHORT CUTS FOR CONSUMER, CHARGE

In substance, the department charges distribution of plumbing fixtures was tightly organized from top to bottom, not for purposes of price-fixing, but with the effect of making price structure more rigid.

Manufacturers and jobbers, it alleges, had mutual agreements; jobbers, in turn, had agreements with master plumbers—the contractors who hire the journeymen who actually install the fixtures in a house. And master plumbers are accused of having similar agreements with the journeymen's union.

Net result, according to the department, was no short-cuts for the consumer. So-called "DTU" shipping — direct-to-you service from factory to consumer—declined until, by departmental estimate, it amounted to less than a fifth of the entire business. Just incidentally, one of the department's important studies of the situation consisted of an examination of the files of one of the big mail-order houses.

In general, Hodges says, his men figured the consumer had to pay from 17 to 25 per cent more for plumbing fixtures than he would under a free and open market.

HODGES KEPT BUSY WITH TWO PROBES

Hodges had a busy time of it throughout the investigation. Not only was he in charge of the plumbing investigation; he also had charge of the investigation into the building industry in Cleveland. The Cleveland situation was one of the "hottest" in the country; for both jobs, Hodges had eight assistants.

● SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

VAL DOUGLAS — girl sports Writer, shipped on a freighter to find excitement.

EDDIE CAVALIER — a prize fighter headed for the title, has a score to settle with Val.

DUFFY KELSO — Cavalier's manager.

YESTERDAY: Val urges Hansen to let her handle the shanghai victims. To turn back will bring investigation by port authorities, more delay. She refuses to turn back, tell Cavalier he will train aboard ship for his fight. "What a story!" she promises. "What a story!"

CHAPTER V

Captain Hansen's jaw sagged a full inch. "Val," he said softly, "how in thunder is that box-fighter goin' to train on board the 'Belle'?"

Duffy Kelso looked sick. Eddie Cavalier looked at her with eyes that said he longed to get his hands around her throat.

"Miss Douglas." It was Pop Grimes, pleading with her. "Honest, lady, this is as funny as a crutch. Your admiral there, is right. Even if you don't put around and take us back to Frisco how can Eddie get in shape here?"

She was quite cool and informative in her answer. "Simple stuff, gents In the first place I know Cavalier is just about in shape already. He had a strenuous indoor season. Three fights, if I remmber correctly. He doesn't need much training for this one. I know he happens to be all through with his heavy work. Just last week, you, Pop Grimes, gave out a story to the effect that Eddie looked over-trained . . . that you weren't going to have him do much more than road work, some light work on the bags and a little sparring. Right?"

Pop Grimes licked his lips. "Right," he whispered. "But . . ."

"But nothing," she flashed. "It so happens that Mike Kelly, who you probably remember as pretty fair heavyweight a few years back, is a seaman aboard this ship. Fortunately for us he has a couple sets of gloves and a light bag which he and some of the boys use in their spare time. Mike'll be as good a sparring partner as you'd want. And Cavalier can do all the road work he wants to around the deck."

Duffy Kelso just sat there and groaned. She looked at him and laughed.

"Before I get through, Duffy, you're going to thank me."

"Shoot you, you mean."

"Go ahead," Cavalier said grimly. "This is the most fantastic thing I've come across since Jules Verne."

"We can pitch a ring on the after deck."

Pop Grimes clapped a hand to his cheek and groaned again. "But his timing—his timing. It'll be ruined. This tub probably throw him so far off balance he'll fall flat on his face."

"Wrong again. This vessel is the smoothest floating freighter on the Pacific. And a guy who punches as sharp as Cavalier doesn't have to worry about losing his timing in a few days."

Eddie Cavalier presented her with a mock bow. "Such flattery must come from the heart," he murmured. "To think you might have a good word to say about me."

"Make the most of it," she retorted. "It might be the last one."

Duffy Kelso shook his head mournfully. "Eddie, it looks like this dame is going through with it. Maybe we oughta wire Sam Golden and tell him to cancel."

Then turning once again to Val. "Look, lady. Sam Golden is one promoter we want to do right by. He had to work on Mike Jacobs plenty hard to get this fight in Frisco. We owe Sam a lot. He gave us our start three years ago. What'll we tell him?"

"That's exactly why you can't cancel, Duffy. You see, I know what ground I'm treading on. You can't let Golden down now. And you also know darn well that if you don't get a crack at the champ now he'll stall you off for another year."

Duffy Kelso spread his hands eloquentl. "This dame, Pop . . . she knows all the angles.

"Right again, Kelso." And then it was Val Douglas who was pleading.

"Duffy, it'll be terrific. Can't you see it? All you've got to do is wire Sam Golden that everything is okay. That this was a a surprise move on your part . . . Didn't want to tell anyone, not even him. You can explain that you wanted to get Eddie away from the usual hurly-burly of the training grind . . . That Eddie needed the rest as much as the private training quarters.

"Duffy, it's great publicity. Terrific. Duffy. It'll pack that ball park so that an undernourished gnat won't be able to get in. It's the natural of the century, Kelso, and if you can't see it you're not as bright as I think you are."

Pop Grimes was bug - eyed. Eddie Cavalier stared at her wonderingly. Steve Hansen was awed.

And over Duffy Kelson's face stole a far-away look of understanding.

"I wisht it wasn't you," he said. I wisht it wasn't you because I think maybe you got something."

Val leaned against a lifeboat, letting a soft spring wind blow through her hair when she heard footsteps on the deck. She turned around quickly. It was Eddie Cavalier.

"Oh . . . it's you."

"Yeah . . . me. Aren't you afraid I'll throw you overboard?" He looked up at the dark, overcast sky. "Good night for something like that and no one's around."

"You're positively gruesome. It's a wonder they never tagged you Killer Cavalier."

"Of course you know there wouldn't be a jury in the world that would convict me."

She laughed mockingly. "Of course not." And then changing the subject. "How goes it with friends Kelso and Grimes? Are they settled for the night? They're such sweet people."

"Last I saw of them," he replied, not without a trace of humor, "they were trying to figure out how a human being goes about sleeping in these iron double-deck bunks."

"You're practically on a luxury liner. What would you do if we had hammocks?"

For the first time that night he smiled, and she figured it must have hurt him terribly for the effort.

"You weren't serious about making us work?" he asked.

"Quite," she said icily. "That was the purpose of the thing in the first place, you know."

"And if we refuse . . . ?"

"You simply don't eat," she said blandly.

"I never was one to shirk a little labor," he said quietly, "but don't you think you ought to make a little concession in my case. I've still got a lot at stake, you know."

"I'll have to think about that," she said. "We'll see if Captain Hansen can spare you entirely, or at least part of the time."

April Fool Joke No Joke At All

April Fool's Day went into reverse for Richard Abramsen Monday, according to the story told by his friends.

Dick and a friend drove up to Abramsen's house Monday morning and upon arrival the friend casually remarked that the house was afire.

Said Dick, "Ah, you can't fool me on that old April Fool's gag."

And so the young men discussed the issue for several seconds, the friend imploring Dick to act in the best interests of the house and contents.

Finally, in desperation the friend ran into the house, threw open the doors and as smoke rolled forth, Dick decided the joke, which wasn't a joke at all, had gone far enough.

Damage was confined to a hole in the kitchen floor.

FRESH PINEAPPLE

Fresh pineapple is valuable to the homemaker not only because of its nutritive content and delicious flavor, but because it can be used in so many ways—raw, cooked and preserved. She finds it equally flavorful in desserts, salads, fritters and as a garnish with meats. When selecting pineapple, remember that it should have a fresh, clean look, should be a dark orange yellow, have a fine fragrant odor, be well formed and free from decay. Pineapples tend to spoil rapidly, so avoid fruit that is bruised or injured.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Daily Press will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Daily Press style of type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one time rate. No ad is taken for less than a basis of three lines. Count six average words to the line. An average word contains six letters.

Accounts unpaid after 20 days will not be granted further credit.

Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at the Daily Press office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rates will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three or six times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.

The Daily Press makes an earnest effort to keep its advertising columns free of deceptive and dishonest announcements. Readers are requested to report unsatisfactory dealings with any advertiser in these columns.

PLEASE DO NOT ask for information on blind ads. The Daily Press will not disclose the identity of any box number or give any information not contained in the ad itself. A flat charge of 10c will be made for each box number issued.

Posters Depict Railroads' Value To Delta County

The economic value of Michigan's railroads to Delta county is graphically pictured in posters now being installed in all railroad stations in the county. The posters were prepared by the Railroad Co-Operative League of Michigan.

According to the poster there are 231 miles of railroad in this county, with 953 persons in local rail service earning an average of $1,804,252.62 a year. The county in 1939 also collected $44,224.80 of the taxes the railroads pay into the state treasury, the money coming into the county through the primary school fund.

The railroad league in issuing the poster declares that the lines are, with the automobile industry and farming, one of the state's three largest industries, but are its greatest single taxpayer and surpass every other industry in the universal fashion in which they serve the state. Only two counties in Michigan are without railroad mileage, but "railroad taxes", the league asserts, "filter into even those counties in which they do not operate, and constitute the greatest tax revenue of many of the other counties. No other transport agency approaches the railroads as an economic, labor-creating, tax-producing or transportation factor throughout Michigan. They are the most vital item in the transportation industry".

Posters Depict Railroads' Value To Delta County

The economic value of Michigan's railroads to Delta county is graphically pictured in posters now being installed in all railroad stations in the county. The posters were prepared by the Railroad Co-Operative League of Michigan.

According to the poster there are 231 miles of railroad in this county, with 953 persons in local rail service earning an average of $1,804,252.62 a year. The county in 1939 also collected $44,224.80 of the taxes the railroads pay into the state treasury, the money coming into the county through the primary school fund.

The railroad league in issuing the poster declares that the lines are, with the automobile industry and farming, one of the state's three largest industries, but are its greatest single taxpayer and surpass every other industry in the universal fashion in which they serve the state. Only two counties in Michigan are without railroad mileage, but "railroad taxes", the league asserts, "filter into even those counties in which they do not operate, and constitute the greatest tax revenue of many of the other counties. No other transport agency approaches the railroads as an economic, labor-creating, tax-producing or transportation factor throughout Michigan. They are the most vital item in the transportation industry".

In Venice, a gondola is more valuable before it is painted, since buyers are suspicious of knots in one that is painted.

BOMBER CAN'T FINDS VICTIMS

Pastor Holds Record of Standing Up Longest Against Champ

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, April 2. (AP)—The heavyweight boxing situation has reached a pretty pass when the champion, to keep active, must adopt the Shaughnessy system in defending his title and take two out of three from the challengers before they are eliminated.

That's just about what has happened, with three men already one down to Joe Louis rated as the outstanding contenders, to use the word in the broad sense. They are Bob Pastor, Tony Galento and Arturo Godoy.

Dollars Always Talk

All but Godoy went out in the comparatively early innings, and just why any of them should want to expose himself to another earthquake is hard to understand, although it is admitted that dollars make themselves clear in any language.

Pastor already should be out according to the Shaughnessy rules, as he has twice been defeated, but one of the defeats came during the regular season, or before Louis was champion, and can be overlooked, and anyway he has stood up longer—about 21 rounds—against the bomber than any other man.

Louis has defended his title 10 times against 10 different opponents, but at last seems to be fresh out of new victims. In fact, he was fresh out before last Friday night, but nobody knew that Johnny Paychek's knees would do his only hitting, although many suspected it.

Savold Possibility

Opponents will bob up in the distant future, but that doesn't help the situation right now. Billy Conn might swell up into a heavyweight, and he is convinced he can beat Louis, although with just what nobody knows. There's a promising looking lad at Little Rock named Bob Sikes, but he's being brought along slowly.

Lee Savold still is a possibility, despite his recent defeat. He returned to action too soon after a battle with the flu, and dropped the decision to one Johnny Whitters, a 220-pounder who is tougher than a morning after. And we still have hopes for our Pat Comiskey, the Paterson lad who hit so hard his last time out he broke his hand. He's only about 20 years old.

Each of the three so-called leading contenders has a talking point in arguing for a rematch. Pastor has distance in his favor, although it would be much more in his favor if he kept it between himself and Louis.

Godoy Awaits Call

Galento had the Bomber on the floor, and Godoy stayed the full 15 rounds, and lost on a split decision. How he stayed is something else again, but he stayed, and on his feet.

Of the three only Galento has done anything of note since meeting Louis. He defeated Lou Nova, who had defeated Max Baer. Pastor took a decision in a bout down in Texas, but Godoy still is basking in the glory of his moral victory, and refuses to meet any other fighter even socially until he gets a chance at Louis again.

Baer and Galento will meet May 28 at Jersey City, and that may cut the list to two. After that, unless another elimination is arranged, Louis will have to do his own cutting.

Bartell Peps Tigers Up By Wild Talking

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Lakeland, Fla.—It looks as though the Chicago Nationals pulled another when they passed Richard Bartell on to Detroit in exchange for William Rogell.

Chas. Gehringer

Both shortstops were considered as washed up as Big Bill Tilden, but here is Dick Bartell sparking the Detroit infield . . . giving the Tigers a leader on the field for the first time since Mickey Cochrane was struck on the head by Bump Hadley's sailer.

While both may have lost a half step or so, if they remain sound, Bartell and Charley Gehringer will provide the Walter O. Briggs entry with an adequate second basing combination.

Bartell wasn't supposed to have a leg under him, but neither was Billy Rogell, so Delmar Baker figured he was even when he engineered the swap.

But it turns out that Bartell really had only one bum pin, and it evidently was nothing more than a sprained ankle aggravated by his failure to give it time to heal. Rowdy Richard was further handicapped by illness in 1938 and 1939.

If for no other reason than the Cubs let him go, Bartell may prove valuable to the Tigers. The Wrigleys seldom make the right move in shuffling players.

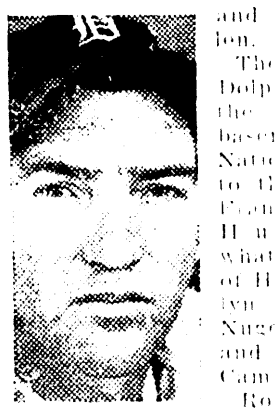
CHUCK KLEIN DEALS PROFITABLE FOR PHILS

They gave the Phillies $65,000 and three athletes for Chuck Klein, and finally returned the outfielder and paid more cash and gave a pitcher for Curtis Davis and Ethan Allen.



Schoolboy Rowe

They gave Dolph Camilli, the best first baseman in the National League, to the Phils for Frank O'Donnell Hurst, and whatever became of Hurst? Brooklyn gave Gerald Nugent $45,000 and a player for Camilli.

Rollie Hemsley once was a Cub. The Wrigley outfit let Babe Phelps go to the Dodgers for the waiver price.

The Bruins swapped Lon Warneke to the Cardinals for Ripper Collins and Leroy Parmelee.

They gave the Giants Billy Jurges, Frank Demaree and Ken O'Dea for Bartell, Hank Leiber and Gus Mancuso. Jurges, Demaree and O'Dea are still with the Polo Grounders, the first two invaluable. Leiber is the only one of the trio who went to Wrigley Field who is still on the premises.

ROWE COULD TAKE TIGERS LONG WAY

But the daddy of all deals was the one which sent Dizzy Dean and his lame arm from the Cards to the Cubs for $185,000 and Curt Davis and Clyde Shoun. Dean has won 13 games for the Cubs in two campaigns, Davis 34 for the Cards, for whom the left-hander, Shoun, was in 53 games in 1939.

What Philip K. Wrigley needs is a competent appraiser of ball players.

Detroit might do all right if Lynwood Rowe could only get it into his head that there is nothing wrong with his arm.

There have been times the past two years when the Schoolboy looked as fast and as capable as he was when he pitched the Tigers to two pennants and a world championship and went on to win 19 more games in 1936.

But, after bearing down for a spell, Rowe lets up . . . appears to be trying to shove the ball up to the plate . . . seems content to just go along.

That's the trouble with too many ball players. They are satisfied with getting by.

Local Team Clips Maples For 3,010

Hard pressed by the Arcadians, who rolled a 2985 total, the Clairmont Transfers became the second Major league team to pass the 3000 mark last night when they spilled the pins for a 3010 total at the Arcade alleys. They put together games of 978, 991 and 1041. The previous high of the league is held by the Liberty Loans who added up 3016.

Individual totals for the Clairmonts last night were:

Benard	247	214	214	675
Gaffner	164	181	196	541
Berry	185	213	214	612

BOBBY JONES BOUNCES BACK

Augusta Pride Is Master of Every Shot On Home Course

BY BILL BONI

Augusta, Ga., April 2. (AP)—The master of Augusta still is the master of every shot. Before the biggest and most enthusiastic gallery of this practice day for the coming Augusta national golf tournament, Bobby Jones shot a six-under-par 66 today to bring back vivid memories of the Jones of old.

Almost shunted to the sidelines of his own tournament by a back ailment in recent weeks, Bobby has bounced up again and is hitting the ball as handsomely as he ever did. When he completed today's round over the course he designed himself, he had played his last 27 holes in an even 100 strokes, and was eight under par for that distance.

The pride of Georgia teamed up with Charley Yates against Horton Smith and Bud Ward, the national amateur champion. This latter was the combine that had won the St. Augustine pro-amateur tournament. But this time they were up against more than they could handle as Yates backed Bobby's 66 with a 68 of his own to bring in a 4 and 3 victory.

From the way the gallery acted, you'd have thought Bobby was back trying for a repeat of that fabulous 1930 "grand slam." They cheered him all the way around.

They're all pulling for him. There's nothing the paid-to-play boys would like better than to see Bobby shoot a 66 or a 67 in the opening round on Thursday.

Open Champion Byron Nelson had a 66 of his own while taking two Argentine invaders, Martin Pose and Enrique Bertolino, on a tour of the handsome layout.

Besides Jones and Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, last year's winner here, also had a 66. Ben Hogan, latest sensation of the winter tour and present co-favorite with Guldahl at 6-1, matched Yates' 68, while Lawson Little had a 69 and Ward a 70. McSpaden, who picked up on one hole, had an approximate 68.

Tomorrow Pose and Bertolino, who should be rested by then after 19 days at sea and 20 hours on the train, will play with Jones and Ed Dudley.

Newberry Sextet Beats Sault, 5-4

Newberry, Mich.—The Newberry Junior Sportsmen hockey team edged out a Sault sextet here Sunday night in a close battle by a score of 5-4.

In the first period Sault took a 3-1 lead. Then in the second period Sault went scoreless and the Sportsmen tallied once to make the score 3-2. In the last frame, with their passing attack functioning well, the Sportsmen tallied three times in quick succession, and Sault tallied twice.

The Sportsmen have defeated this same team three times this season. On March 17, the Sportsmen won in an overtime game by the score of 9-8. Then a week following the Sportsmen again won by 7-5.

Today's Sport Parade

BY HENRY McLEMORE

New York, April 2. (UP)—There is but one consolation for the 11,620 chumps who paid prices ranging from $3 to $16.50 to see the Joe Louis-Johnny Paychek fight in Madison Square Garden.

They will be able to tell their children and their grandchildren that they saw the worst bout in history for the world's heavyweight boxing championship. No matter what fights are held in the future, the affair Friday night will stand as the sorriest spectacle in which a champion and a challenger were involved.

Long after the biggest redwood has succumbed to time, and the scar that is the Grand Canyon has healed, Paychek's slaughter by Louis in one round and 44 seconds will remain unmatched as a display of poor matchmaking and fright, particularly the latter.

Johnny Is Nervous

The Iowa boy, who was billed as a fighting man, and who didn't put in a denial, was a pathetic excuse as a challenger for the championship. He scarcely could manage the steps that led into the ring, so afraid was he, and he sat on his chair awaiting instructions his knees literally knocked together. His face was chalky, and he twitched with a nervousness that was unwholesome.

When the bell rang for the first round and he struggled out toward Louis, Paychek was something to make you want to turn your head. He held his hands in front of him as a frightened woman would, and he shook all over. Fear, terrible fear, was all over his face, and in his eyes and in his every movement.

Never once did he throw a punch.

Backwards, sideways, he hopped and swayed as Louis, unbelieving, pursued him, fists cocked, body set, ready to unloose rights and lefts. Finally Louis caught up with Paychek and put him on the floor for a count of nine. Later Paychek said that the first knockdown was all he ever remembered.

Louis Holds Blow

But he got up, somehow, and went down again for another nine count. The end of the round saw him, out of his mind, but swaying on his feet after coming up from the canvas for the third time. Paychek didn't actually reach the canvas on the third knockdown. His knees buckled when Louis caught him and he slipped slowly to the floor as if to pray. He would have fallen on his face but fortunately the second strand of rope caught his arms and he hung there.

Louis stepped back, waited to hit him. It is well that he did, for a blow at that time might have broken his neck. He had just pulled himself to his feet when the bell rang.

The first blow Louis threw was one of the hardest Louis ever threw. It was a full right hand, started from as far back as he could sweep his arm, and it caught Paychek flush on the jaw. The Iowan's mouth flew open and he was lifted into the air. He fell backward, with a moan, and the sound of his head striking the floor was like an echo to the crash of the champion's fist.

World Champion Globe Trotters Here April 14

The Harlem Globe Trotters, world championship professional basketball team, will appear in Escanaba Sunday, April 14, it was announced yesterday by Leo Brunelle.

The colored champions, whose wizardly and humorous antics on the court have thrilled Upper Peninsula fans for several years, will meet Dopey Johnson's Northerns of this city, one of the strongest independent teams in the peninsula. The game will be played Sunday afternoon of next week.

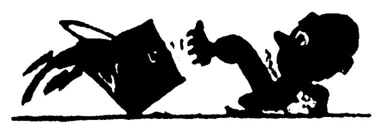
The game will be a benefit performance of the Escanaba Rams, independent football team. The Rams incurred a debt last fall in bringing the Chicago Brown Bombers, starring Bernie Jefferson, when the game was played in a rainstorm and the Globe Trotter game has been scheduled in an attempt to recoup the loss and give the team something upon which to start next year.

The Globe Trotters need no introduction in Escanaba or vicinity. For the past several years, they have played in this territory and always have given the fans plenty of entertainment with lightning-like passing, sensational shooting and clean, refreshing comedy.

In the Northerns, the colored boys will be meeting a team that has won 35 games this season and lost only three.

A preliminary game will be scheduled later.

SPILLING the DOPE



BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

UPPER PENINSULA high school basketball players are getting a bit of recognition this year . . . the Michigan Officials association, composed of men officiating high school games, recently announced a list of 38 boys to whom sportsmanship awards are being presented . . . included on the list are four Upper Peninsula boys . . . they are Bob Shemky of Crystal Falls, Aho of National Mine, McPherson of Sault Ste. Marie and Sutinen of Newberry . . . according to the committee, the awards do not take high scoring or similar honors into consideration, covering instead honesty and courtesy, intelligence, leadership and the spirit of all around fair play typical of American sports . . . MOUND BATTLE WON BY TIGES

Senators Drop 4 to 2 Decision In Game At Lakeland

Lakeland, Fla., April 2 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers wound up their stay in Florida today by winning a pitchers' battle with the Washington Senators, 4 to 2, in a Grapefruit league game.

The Senators outhit the Tigers but Louis (Bo-Bo) Newsom held them runless during the six innings he was in the box. They got two of their seven hits off rookie Tom Seats to score twice.

Outfielders Barney McCosky and Bruce Campbell had a perfect day at the plate, accounting for five of Detroit's six hits off Early Wynn and Joe Haynes. One of McCosky's blows, a triple, scored the winning run in the third.

Newsom Bears Down

The Tigers, who sent eight players, including five pitchers, back to the minors yesterday, start northward tomorrow. Thursday they play the Brooklyn Dodgers at Gadsden, Ala.

Today's victory was the twelfth for Detroit in 18 games with major league clubs during the stay here, a record which gave the Bengals third place in the Grapefruit league.

With Owner Walter O. Briggs looking on, the talkative Newsom bore down. He had only one bad inning, the fourth, when the Senators, with one out, filled the bases as Newsom became somewhat erratic. He retired the side without a run, however.

Detroit scored twice in the first when Campbell singled and came home on a single by McCosky and an error by Gee Walker, former Tiger outfielder. McCosky went to third on the same bobble and tallied when Hank Greenberg singled.

Error Brings Run

In the third Wynn walked Campbell, the latter scoring on McCosky's triple, and McCosky followed him across the plate on York's outfield fly.

From then on the Tigers could get only two hits off Haynes, one each by McCosky and Campbell, who worked the last five innings.

An error by York accounted for Washington's first run in the eighth. Buddy Lewis walked to start the inning and York then fumbled a blow by Cecil Travis. Walker singled to center to score Lewis. Tom Seats, southpaw obtained from Sacramento, left him and [illegible].

A walk, a force out, a double by Jimmy Wasdell and an infield out gave the Senators their second and final tally in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Washington (A) 000 000 011—2 7 3

Detroit (A) 202 000 00x—4 6 1

Ex-Feather Champ Hangs Up Gloves

Cincinnati, April 2 (AP)—Freddie Miller, once recognized as featherweight champion by the National Boxing Association, hung up his gloves today. He lost last night to Herschel Joiner of Cincinnati in an eight round technical knockout.

Miller said he is retiring from the ring. Twenty-nine years old, he has fought 14 years in many parts of the world.

Two Bowlers Lose Their ABC Titles

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—Two American Bowling Congress titles were relinquished here today and an Ohio entrant narrowly missed becoming the seventh to roll a 300 in 40 years of ABC bowling.

James Danek, Forest Park, Ill., 1939 singles champion, hit 672 in the doubles but tightened up in the singles and rolled 497, just 233 pins short of his winning 739 total last year.

The other title lost was that of Phil Joss and Murray Fowler, Steubenville, O., 1939 doubles champions. They hit 1184 or 221 pins under their winning figure last year. Fowler rolled 608, Joss 576.

The Ohioan, Charles McAnespie, 30-year-old Lancaster salesman, struck his ankle as he delivered the ball after eight consecutive strikes. The ball veered into the gutter. McAnespie followed with a spare and struck out for 270. Previous games of 214 and 201 gave him a 685 total for eighth place in the singles. Harlin Ingwalson, Rockford, Ill., shot 684 for ninth.

Dearth of Heavies Means Repeaters for Joe Louis

BOMBER CAN'T FINDS VICTIMS

Pastor Holds Record of Standing Up Longest Against Champ

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, April 2. (AP)—The heavyweight boxing situation has reached a pretty pass when the champion, to keep active, must adopt the Shaughnessy system in defending his title and take two out of three from the challengers before they are eliminated.

That's just about what has happened, with three men already one down to Joe Louis rated as the outstanding contenders, to use the word in the broad sense. They are Bob Pastor, Tony Galento and Arturo Godoy.

Dollars Always Talk

All but Godoy went out in the comparatively early innings, and just why any of them should want to expose himself to another earthquake is hard to understand, although it is admitted that dollars make themselves clear in any language.

Pastor already should be out according to the Shaughnessy rules, as he has twice been defeated, but one of the defeats came during the regular season, or before Louis was champion, and can be overlooked, and anyway he has stood up longer—about 21 rounds—against the bomber than any other man.

Louis has defended his title 10 times against 10 different opponents, but at last seems to be fresh out of new victims. In fact, he was fresh out before last Friday night, but nobody knew that Johnny Paychek's knees would do his only hitting, although many suspected it.

Savold Possibility

Opponents will bob up in the distant future, but that doesn't help the situation right now. Billy Conn might swell up into a heavyweight, and he is convinced he can beat Louis, although with just what nobody knows. There's a promising looking lad at Little Rock named Bob Sikes, but he's being brought along slowly.

Lee Savold still is a possibility, despite his recent defeat. He returned to action too soon after a battle with the flu, and dropped the decision to one Johnny Whiters, a 220-pounder who is tougher than a morning after. And we still have hopes for our Pat Comiskey, the Paterson lad who hit so hard his last time out he broke his hands. He's only about 20 years old.

Each of the three so-called leading contenders has a talking point in arguing for a rematch. Pastor has distance in his favor, although it would be much more in his favor if he kept it between himself and Louis.

Godoy Awaits Call

Galento had the Bomber on the floor, and Godoy stayed the full 15 rounds, and lost on a split decision. How he stayed is something else again, but he stayed, and on his feet.

Of the three only Galento has done anything of note since meeting Louis. He defeated Lou Nova, who had defeated Max Baer. Pastor took a decision in a bout down in Texas, but Godoy still is basking in the glory of his moral victory, and refuses to meet any other fighter even socially until he gets a chance at Louis again.

Baer and Galento will meet May 28 at Jersey City, and that may cut the list to two. After that, unless another elimination is arranged, Louis will have to do his own cutting.

Bartell Peps Tigers Up By Wild Talking

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Lakeland, Fla.—It looks as though the Chicago Nationals pulled another when they passed Richard Bartell on to Detroit in exchange for William Rogell. Both shortstops were considered as washed up as Big Bill Tilden, but here is Dick Bartell sparking the Detroit infield . . . giving the Tigers a leader on the field for the first time since Mickey Cochrane was struck on the head by Bump Hadley's sailer.

Chas. Gehringer

While both may have lost a half step or so, if they remain sound, Bartell and Charley Gehringer will provide the Walter O. Briggs entry with an adequate second basing combination.

Bartell wasn't supposed to have a leg under him, but neither was Billy Rogell, so Delmar Baker figured he was even when he engineered the swap.

But it turns out that Bartell really had only one bum pin, and it evidently was nothing more than a sprained ankle aggravated by his failure to give it time to heal. Rowdy Richard was further handicapped by illness in 1938 and 1939.

If for no other reason than the Cubs let him go, Bartell may prove valuable to the Tigers. The Wrigleys seldom make the right move in shuffling players.

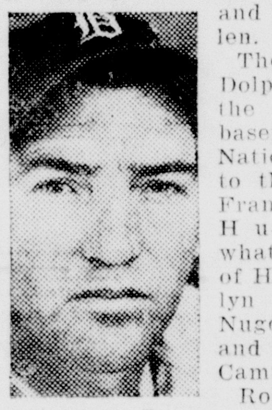
CHUCK KLEIN DEALS PROFITABLE FOR PHILS

They gave the Phillies $65,000 and three athletes for Chuck Klein, and finally returned the outfielder and paid more cash and gave a pitcher for Curtis Davis and Ethan Allen.



Schoolboy Rowe

They gave Dolph Camilli, the best first baseman in the National League, to the Phils for Frank O'Donnell Hurst, and whatever became of Hurst? Brooklyn gave Gerald Nugent $45,000 and a player for Camilli.

Rolly Hemsley once was a Cub. The Wrigley outfit let Babe Phelps go to the Dodgers for the waiver price.

The Bruins swapped Lon Warneke to the Cardinals for Ripper Collins and Leroy Parmelee.

They gave the Giants Billy Jurges, Frank Demaree and Ken O'Dea for Bartell, Hank Leiber and Gus Mancusco. Jurges, Demaree and O'Dea are still with the Polo Grounders, the first two invaluable. Leiber is the only one of the trio who went to Wrigley Field who is still on the premises.

The Yankees got two good years out of Blubber Malone . . . obtaining him from the Red Birds after the Cubs had given up on the big right-hander.

ROWE COULD TAKE TIGERS LONG WAY

But the daddy of all deals was the one which sent Dizzy Dean and his lame arm from the Cards to the Cubs for $185,000 and Curt Davis and Clyde Shoun. Dean has won 13 games for the Cubs in two campaigns, Davis 34 for the Cards, for whom the left-hander, Shoun, was in 53 games in 1939.

What Philip K. Wrigley needs is a competent appraiser of ball players.

Detroit might do all right if Lynwood Rowe could only get it into his head that there is nothing wrong with his arm.

There have been times the past two years when the Schoolboy looked as fast and as capable as he was when he pitched the Tigers to two pennants and a world championship and went on to win 19 more games in 1936.

But, after bearing down for a spell, Rowe lets up . . . appears to be trying to shove the ball up to the plate . . . seems content to just go along.

That's the trouble with too many ball players. They are satisfied with getting by.

Local Team Clips Maples For 3,010

Hard pressed by the Arcadians, who rolled a 2989 total, the Clairmont Transfers became the second Major league team to pass the 3000 mark last night when they spilled the pins for a 3010 total at the Arcade alleys. They put together games of 988, 991 and 1041. The previous high of the league is held by the Liberty Loans, who added up 3016.

Individual totals for the Clairmonts last night were:

Benard	247	214	214	675
Gaffner	164	181	196	541
Berry	185	213	214	612

BOBBY JONES BOUNCES BACK

BY BILL BONI

Augusta, Ga., April 2, (AP)—The master of Augusta still is the master of every shot. Before the biggest and most enthusiastic gallery of this practice day for the coming Augusta national golf tournament, Bobby Jones shot a six-under-par 66 today to bring back vivid memories of the Jones of old.

Almost shunted to the sidelines of his own tournament by a back ailment in recent weeks, Bobby has bounced up again and is hitting the ball as handsomely as he ever did. When he completed today's round over the course he designed himself, he had played his last 27 holes in an even 100 strokes, and was eight under par for that distance.

The pride of Georgia teamed up with Charley Yates against Horton Smith and Bud Ward, the national amateur champion. This latter was the combine that had won the St. Augustine pro-amateur tournament. But this time they were up against more than they could handle as Yates backed Bobby's 66 with a 68 of his own to bring in a 4 and 3 victory.

From the way the gallery acted, you'd have thought Bobby was back trying for a repeat of that fabulous 1930 "grand slam." They cheered him all the way around.

They're all pulling for him. There's nothing the paid-to-play boys would like better than to see Bobby shoot a 66 or a 67 in the opening round on Thursday.

Open Champion Byron Nelson had a 66 of his own while taking two Argentine invaders, Martin Pose and Enrique Bertolino, on a tour of the handsome layout.

Besides Jones and Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, last year's winner here, also had a 66. Ben Hogan, latest sensation of the winter tour and present co-favorite with Guldahl at 6-1, matched Yates' 68, while Lawson Little had a 69 and Ward a 70. McSpaden, who picked up on one hole, had an approximate 68.

Tomorrow Pose and Bertolino, who should be rested by then after 19 days at sea and 20 hours on the train, will play with Jones and Ed Dudley.

Newberry Sextet Beats Sault, 5-4

Newberry, Mich.—The Newberry Junior Sportsmen hockey team edged out a Sault sextet here Sunday night in a close battle by a score of 5-4.

In the first period Sault took a 3-1 lead. Then in the second period Sault went scoreless, and the Sportsmen tallied once to make the score 3-2. In the last frame, with their passing attack functioning well, the Sportsmen tallied three times in quick succession, and Sault tallied twice.

The Sportsmen have defeated this same team three times this season. On March 17, the Sportsmen won in an overtime game by the score of 9-8. Then a week following the Sportsmen again won by 7-5.

Today's Sport Parade

BY HENRY McLEMORE

New York, April . (UP)—There is but one consolation for the 11,620 chumps who paid prices ranging from $3 to $16.50 to see the Joe Louis-Johnny Paychek fight in Madison Square Garden.

They will be able to tell their children and their grandchildren that they saw the worst bout in history for the world's heavyweight boxing championship. No matter what fights are held in the future, the affair Friday night will stand as the sorriest spectacle in which a champion and a challenger were involved.

Long after the biggest redwood has succumbed to time, and the scar that is the Grand Canyon has healed, Paychek's slaughter by Louis in one round and 44 seconds will remain unmatched as a display of poor matchmaking and fright, particularly the latter.

Johnny Is Nervous

The Iowa boy, who was billed as a fighting man, and who didn't put in a denial, was a pathetic excuse as a challenger for the championship. He scarcely could manage the steps that led into the ring, so afraid was he, and he sat on his chair awaiting instructions his knees literally knocked together. His face was chalky, and he twitched with a nervousness that was unwholesome.

When the bell rang for the first round and he struggled out toward Louis, Paychek was something to make you want to turn your head. He held his hands in front of him as a frightened woman would, and he shook all over. Fear, terrible fear, was all over his face, and in his eyes, and in his every movement.

Never once did he throw a punch.

Backwards, sideways, he hopped and swayed as Louis, unbelieving, pursued him, fists cocked, body set, ready to unloose rights and lefts. Finally Louis caught up with Paychek and put him on the floor for a count of nine. Later Paychek said that the first knockdown was all he ever remembered.

Louis Holds Blow

But he got up, somehow, and went down again for another nine count. The end of the round saw him, out of his mind, but swaying on his feet after coming up from the canvas for the third time. Paycheck didn't actually reach the canvas on the third knockdown. His knees buckled when Louis caught him and he slipped slowly to the floor as if to pray. He would have fallen on his face but fortunately the second strand of rope caught his arms and he hung there.

Louis stepped back, afraid to hit him. It is well that he did, for a blow at that time might have broken his neck. He had just pulled himself to his feet when the bell rang.

The finishing punch was one of the hardest Louis ever threw. It was a full right hand, started from as far back as he could sweep his arm, and it caught Paychek flush on the jaw. The Iowan's mouth flew open and he was lifted into the air. He fell backward, with a moan, and the sound of his head striking the floor was like an echo to the crash of the champion's fist.

World Champion Globe Trotters Here April 14

The Harlem Globe Trotters, world championship professional basketball team, will appear in Escanaba Sunday, April 14, it was announced yesterday by Leo Brunelle.

The colored champions, whose wizardy and humorous antics on the court have thrilled Upper Peninsula fans for several years, will meet Dopey Johnson's Northerns of this city, one of the strongest independent teams in the peninsula. The game will be played Sunday afternoon of next week.

The game will be a benefit performance of the Escanaba Rams, independent football team. The Rams incurred a debt last fall in bringing the Chicago Brown Bombers, starring Bernie Jefferson, when the game was played in a rainstorm and the Globe Trotter game has been scheduled in an attempt to recoup the loss and give the team something upon which to start next year.

The Globe Trotters need no introduction in Escanaba or vicinity. For the past several years, they have played in this territory and always have given the fans plenty of entertainment with lightning-like passing, sensational shooting and clean, refreshing comedy.

In the Northerns, the colored boys will be meeting a team that has won 35 games this season and lost only three.

A preliminary game will be scheduled later.

MOUND BATTLE WON BY TIGES

Senators Drop 4 to 2 Decision In Game At Lakeland

Lakeland, Fla., April 2. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers wound up their stay in Florida today by winning a pitchers' battle with the Washington Senators, 4 to 2, in a Grapefruit league game.

The Senators outhit the Tigers, but Louis (Bo-Bo) Newsom held them runless during the six innings he was in the box. They got two of their seven hits off rookie Tom Seats to score twice.

Outfielders Barney McCosky and Bruce Campbell had a perfect day at the plate, accounting for five of Detroit's six hits off Early, Wynn and Joe Haines. One of McCosky's blows, a triple, scored the winning run in the third.

Newsom Bears Down

The Tigers, who sent eight players, including five pitchers, back to the minors yesterday, start northward tomorrow. Thursday they play the Brooklyn Dodgers at Gadsden, Ala.

Today's victory was the twelfth for Detroit in 18 games with major league clubs during the stay here, a record which gave the Bengals third place in the Grapefruit league.

With Owner Walter O. Briggs looking on, the talkative Newsom bore down. He had only one bad inning—the fourth—when the Senators, with one out, filled the bases as Newsom became somewhat erratic. He retired the side without a run, however.

Detroit scored twice in the first when Campbell singled and came home on a single by McCosky and an error by Gee Walker, former Tiger outfielder. McCosky went to third on the same bobble and tallied when Hank Greenberg singled.

Error Brings Run

In the third Wynn walked Campbell, the latter scoring on McCosky's triple, and McCosky followed him across the plate on York's outfield fly.

From then on the Tigers could get only two hits off Haynes—one each by McCosky and Campbell—who worked the last five innings.

An error by York accounted for Washington's first run in the eighth. Buddy Lewis walked to start the inning and York then fumbled a blow by Cecil Travis. Walker singled to center to score Lewis but Seats, a southpaw obtained from Sacramento, left him and Travis stranded.

A walk, a force out, a double by Johnny Welaj and an infield out gave the Senators their second and final tally in the ninth.

Score by innings:
Washington (A) .... 000 000 011—2 7 3
Detroit (A) .... 202 000 00x—4 6 1
Wynn, Haynes and Early, Ferrell; Newsom, Seats and Tebbetts.

Ex-Feather Champ Hangs Up Gloves

Cincinnati, April 2 (AP)—Freddie Miller, once recognized as featherweight champion by the National Boxing Association, hung up his gloves today. He lost last night to Herschel Joiner of Cincinnati in an eight-round technical knockout.

Miller said he is retiring from the ring. Twenty-nine years old, he has fought 14 years in many parts of the world.

The United States alone uses 8,000,000 tons of salt annually.

Two Bowlers Lose Their ABC Titles

Detroit, April 2. (AP)—Two American Bowling Congress titles were relinquished here today and an Ohio entrant narrowly missed becoming the seventh to roll a 300 in 40 years of ABC bowling.

James Danek, Forest Park, Ill., 1939 singles champion, hit 672 in the doubles but tightened up in the singles and rolled 497, just 333 pins short of his winning 730 total last year.

The other title lost was that of Phil Icuss and Murray Fowler, Steubenville, O., 1939 doubles champions. They hit 1184 or 221 pins under their winning figure last year. Fowler rolled 608, Icuss 576.

The Ohioan, Charles McAnespie, 40-year-old Lancaster salesman, struck his ankle as he delivered the ball after eight consecutive strikes. The ball veered into the gutter. McAnespie followed with a spare and struck out for 270. Previous games of 214 and 201 gave him a 685 total for eighth place in the singles. Harlan Ingwalson, Rockford, Ill., shot 684 for ninth.

Two from Iron River Grilled by Police In E. P. Johnson Attack

Two men were brought to Escanaba yesterday from Iron River for questioning in connection with the attack last Friday night on Ed P. Johnson, 303 North Stephenson avenue, who was knocked unconscious and robbed of $260.

Both were being questioned yesterday afternoon and were held overnight for further probing today about their whereabouts and activities on the night in question. There was nothing to announce last night, Chief of Police Michael F. Ettenhofer said. The two were returned here by Sheriff William E. Miron and Assistant Police Chief Jack Finn.

Mr. Johnson continued in satisfactory condition last night at St. Francis hospital. He suffered a fractured skull when he was apparently struck by a club or pipe.

CASH LOANS

YOU CAN BORROW $100 BY MAIL IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.43 A MONTH

Here's a simple way to get a loan by mail. You can borrow $20 to $300 without endorsers or guarantors, if you can make regular monthly payments. You needn't even leave your own home to apply for your loan or to get the money. And you may repay your loan on the installment plan which best fits your own purse.

Choose your own payment plan

Suppose that you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.77 a month. Your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

See the sample loans and payment plans in the table. (Loans also made in other amounts and for other periods.) Note that you may make very small payments if you wish. Note also that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.60 each, or a total of only $106.40, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. (Payments shown in the table include all charges.)

What you do to borrow

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No credit inquiries are made of friends or relatives. And you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan promptly and simply.

Study the loan and payment table. Then send the coupon for free booklet containing full information. No obligation to borrow.

DELTA BREWERY AUCTION IS OFF

Schmit Is Authorized to Sell Privately; Bids All Unsatisfactory

The Delta Brewery property remained unsold last night after an afternoon and evening of further negotiations to get a satisfactory price for it in a final auction before Referee in Bankruptcy George C. Quinnell of Marquette at the county courthouse.

Yesterday's auction represented the third effort of the referee to get a satisfactory price, and although one new offer was made on a newly presented plan of sale, all auction bids were considered unsatisfactory by the referee and he authorized Trustee William J. Schmit of Escanaba to dispose of the property privately. The auction was declared closed and all bids rejected.

Similar authorization for private sale was given last Wednesday at the close of a previous unsuccessful auction effort, with the session yesterday scheduled to consider any private bids and give previous bidders opportunity to match any private offers.

A Last Effort

Mr. Schmit reported, however, that no offers had been made privately, so that the bids of Jack Kader of Milwaukee, high at last Wednesday's session, remained in effect. He had bid $8,000 for the property subject to the real estate mortgage and $26,800, free and clear of all claims.

In a last effort yesterday to get a satisfactory price, Mr. Quinnell devised another manner of offering the property. This was: All the property of the brewery, subject to all liens and encumberances, including the real estate and roughly $6,325 in mortgages on equipment.

For this, there was brief and spirited bidding, that began at $3,000 and ended at $3,500, with Michael Tanver Co. of Chicago high. Meyer Kronik and Mr. Kader of Milwaukee, chief bidders at last Wednesday's session, also offered bids on this parcel.

"I had hoped," Referee Quinnell remarked, "that this manner of offering might bring enough to pay court and administration costs, but this offer would far from satisfy such claims." (They have been estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000.)

He added that offering the property subject to the liens and mortgage seemed a fair way of protecting holders of claims.

A recess was called at 3:45 until 5 o'clock, and then another recess was taken until 7:15 p. m., when negotiations continued. But shortly before 9 o'clock the referee announced his decision: The auction is finished.

Local Interest Shown

If Mr. Schmit, the trustee, can obtain a fair price in private, it will be reported for confirmation by the referee. There was no time limit set as to when a report shall be made.

But there was strong evidence yesterday that local interests may take over the property and operate the business. Action of some sort is anticipated within a few days, Mr. Schmit indicated.

Sale of the property "free and clear" of liens and mortgage, either or both real or chattel, was objected to by attorneys for the real estate and chattel mortgagees.

Edward A. Smith of Detroit, formerly of Gladstone, was present to object for his clients that the property should not be sold free and clear, unless the price offered would guarantee the payment of the claim of approximately $50,000. He challenged the court's legal right to make such a sale.

Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone, representing the holders of mortgages on some of the machinery, offered similar objection.

Concessions Possible

Mr. Smith said he understood some in Escanaba are interesting in obtaining and operating the plant, and that it seemed likely that in a week or 10 days a plan might be found whereby the mortgagees would be protected. He suggested that if conditions were favorable, the real estate mortgagees might make concessions and Mr. Jackson added that his clients also might be favorable to concessions under proper conditions.

Mr. Smith spent part of the afternoon attempting to telephone Mrs. H. G. Wall of Indianapolis, one of the larger holders of mortgage claims against the property, but she was reported enroute to Washington, D. C., and was not available. Mrs. Lena B. Vradenburg, another large mortgage holder, also was represented by both her husband and Attorney Smith.

Schaffer Pioneer Is 85 Years Old

Eugene Daigneault, one of the oldest residents of Delta county, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary on Monday, March 25. He has been a resident of the county for the past sixty years.

Mr. Daigneault was born March 25, 1855 in New Brunswick. When he was one year old the family moved to lower Canada, settling in Rouville county. He is the youngest of a family numbering sixteen children, twelve girls and four boys. All his brothers and sisters are dead, each having lived over ninety years, excepting a sister, Sophie who died of typhoid fever at the age of thirty. Edmond, his eldest brother died at the age of ninety-nine and one-half years.

At the age of two, Eugene's parents died and he was placed in the orphanage of L'Ange Guardian de Rouville. He was reared by a priest called Pierre Louis Pariet, received his education at the convent and attended college two years. Mr. Daigneault still has his school books and prizes them.

He came to the United States at the age of sixteen, first settling in Westfield, Mass. He worked there for one and a half years for the American Whip Shop Co., then worked in Holyoke and West Springfield in cotton factories. He also spent some time in New Hampshire.

At the age of twenty-two he came to Michigan and for a few years he worked in lumber mills and kilns in the territory near Houghton. Being a strong and capable man, he was a champion at emptying kilns which was considered very hard work in those days.

After having attained the age of twenty-five he thought of the future so he purchased 3 forties of woodland in Bark River township. He spent six years clearing land to start farming and built a home. At that time there were no roads, excepting for a supply trail—as it was called—from Ford River.

He married Adelagid Beausoleil, a widow from New York State and had two children, one died at birth and Emanuel who is living on the farm.

Mr. Daigneault retired from active work about twenty years ago and has lived alone for the past six years, his wife having died in the winter of 1934. He is in fair health and finds pleasure in visiting his old friends, reading, and walking to his old farm home, which is about half a mile from his residence.

Mrs. Lawrence Mayrend of Schaffer is an adopted daughter. Another adopted daughter lives in Marquette.

He has ten grandchildren and one great-Grandchild.

NYA OFFICIALS TO ATTEND MEET

Local Representatives to Remain Three Days In Iron Mountain

Gordon Corcoran and Kenneth Parent, NYA supervisors from Delta county, are attending a three-day series of conferences held in Iron Mountain this week, April 3, 4 and 5, it was learned through an announcement by Orin W. Kaye, State Administrator of the Michigan National Youth Administration.

Representatives from all Upper Peninsula counties and thirty-three lower Michigan counties are attending the meeting to discuss various phases of the NYA program from local points of view.

Members of the administrative staff of the state office in Lansing are present to discuss administration on a state-wide basis.

The entire three days are being devoted to round table discussions, concerning questions of finance, certification, assignment, related training, compensation, and student work.

Results of the institute, Kaye said, will be added to those of previous institutes held recently in Jackson and Detroit and embracing the remaining Michigan counties. The discussions are designed to bring about organizational procedures that will best meet the needs of unemployed youth, he said.

Student Nurse Examinations Will Be Soon

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an open competitive examination to secure student nurses for employment at the St. Elizabeths Hospital (Federal Institution for Treatment of Mental Disorders), Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C. Applications must be on file with the Commission's office at Washington, D. C., not later than April 29 if received from States east of Colorado, and not later than May 2, 1940, if received from Colorado and States westward.

The hospital offers a 3-year training course for the student nurses, and pays them a salary of $288 a year with quarters, subsistence, laundry, and medical attention. Those who satisfactorily complete the training course and receive certificates of graduation will be eligible for promotion to positions on the nursing staff, if vacancies are available.

Applicants must have been graduated from an accredited high school giving a 4-year course upon completion of at least 16 units, including certain units of English, mathematics, science, and history. Senior students now in attendance in their last year of high school will be admited to the examination under certain conditions. They must have reached their eighteenth but must not have passed their thirtieth birthday. These age limits will not be waived in any case.

Full information may be obtained from Robert J. Gasman at the post office here or from the Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners at any first or second-class post office.

B and PW Club Host to Smelt Fest Visitors

The Business and Professional Women's club celebrated the eleventh anniversary of the foundation of the club at a meeting held Monday night at the Ludington hotel.

Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, who was the first president of the club, gave a very interesting talk, reviewing the past accomplishments of the organization. Mrs. Reynolds stressed the fine cooperation among club members which has been responsible for the success of the club. She also recalled several joint meetings with men's clubs, work done by the club, and other highlights of the club's history. Following Mrs. Reynold's talk, a birthday cake with eleven candles was cut by Julia Parsons, club president, and cards were played. Plans were completed to hold a card party April 15.

The club has been asked to act as hostess to out-of-town women guests during the Smelt Jamboree. The clubrooms in the Jamboree headquarters will be decorated for the occasion. Refreshments will be served by members of the club. A committee to take charge of preparations for the women guests was appointed with Mrs. Zania Rivers as chairman and Lillian Reynolds, Alice Kvam, Marie Peters, Phoebe Benson, Hazel Wickert, Esther Palmer and Marie Bezold as members.

Another new feature of the 1940 Jamboree which the B. & P. W. club will provide is a guide service for women visitors, showing them around at the various Jamboree activities and assisting them in the actual dipping of smelt. Members of the girl guides are Adelaid DeMars, Eileen Richards, Naomi Vinette, Mary Jane Goodman, Kate Villeneuve and Blanche Richards.

Bodice Panels Feature Smart Basque Style

Here's a piquant new version of an old favorite—the basque style. Marian Martin has designed Pattern 9310 in beautifully molding lines that finish in a becoming flare. The popular longer-torso look is given by side bodice sections that form points below the waistline. Even in back the waist seam dips to a curve. The center bodice panel, in-one with the front skirt panel, makes this pattern an easy task for your shears. Isn't the neckline engagingly shaped? For a dress-up style, use lace edging and either buttons or gay ribbon bows. You might try the skirt, bodice panel and attractive sleeve tabs in bright contrast.

Pattern 9310 may be ordered only in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 35 inch fabric and 3⅛ yards lace edging. Price 15 cents.

HERE'S A CLEVER IDEA! Women who haven't "PERFECT FIGURES" (and not many of us have), can be sure of having their smart MARIAN MARTIN frocks fit perfectly! The secret? Just order our simple basic pattern in your size, adjust it to YOUR OWN figure measurements, cut it out in muslin—and you have a permanent guide to use when making all your frocks! Send for Pattern 9306 today! Designed for sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 50. Size 16 requires 3 3-8 yards 36 inch fabric. Price 15c.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. THIRTY CENTS (30c) for both. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to Daily Press Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Accompanist

BRYNOLF LUNDHOLM

Brynolf Lundholm, instructor in theory and piano in the School of Music at Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., will appear as accompanist with the Augustana Choir when it presents its concert at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, April 10.

Mr. Lundholm is an accomplished musician with broad training and experience. He received his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degrees at Augustana college and his Master of Music degree from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. A portion of his work was done as a scholarship holder under a grant from the Theodore Presser Foundation.

During the past ten years Mr. Lundholm has served as organist and choral conductor of two of the largest churches in Moline, Ill. He is also accompanist and assistant conductor of the Handel Oratorio Society of 350 voices at Augustana college, as well as assistant conductor of the Augustana Choir.

A number of very excellent piano selections have been composed by Mr. Lundholm, but he is perhaps more widely known for the artistic arrangements of choral selections he has made for the Augustana Choir.

For several years Mr. Lundholm's rare gift as an accompanist has been recognized by leading concert artists and he has been engaged by them for such work on numerous occasions.
